Effective Technology Transfer In Biotechnology: Best Practice Case Studies In Europe Oliver Uecke, Robin De Cock, Bart Clarysse, Thomas Crispeels, 2015-01-06 Biotechnology is referred to as one of the key enabling technologies of the 21st century. It has the potential to offer solutions for a number of health and resource based problems the world is facing such as unmet medical needs and fossil fuel dependency. Considerable effort and investment has been expended in recent years to try and improve the outcomes of technology transfer in order to fulfill this potential. This book presents seventeen best practice case studies on the topic of effective technology transfer in biotechnology. The selected case studies focus on technology transfer offices, funding models, incubators, education and clusters. Each presents an overview of an initiative that was deployed in Europe with the aim of supporting and stimulating the transfer of biotechnology discoveries and technologies from research laboratories to society. Readers are provided with a critical assessment of each initiative and policy makers, entrepreneurs, cluster managers and research institute managers will find inspiring lessons they can draw on when developing and implementing similar initiatives elsewhere. These cases are the product of research undertaken as part of the ETTBio Effective Technology Transfer in Biotechnology project, co-financed by the European Union ERDF European Regional Development Fund and made possible by the INTERREG IVC Programme. ETTBio commenced in January 2012 and concluded in December 2014.

The Impact of Technology on Faculty Development, Life, and Work Kay Herr Gillespie, 1998 A critical and global issue in higher education today is the implementation of technology in our individual institutional and collective settings for the enhancement of teaching and learning in the widest sense The scope of the issue is inclusive not only of undergraduate and graduate teaching and learning within the classroom and beyond but also of the research and service or outreach components of our mission in short of everything we do in higher education The foundation assumptions for this exploration of issues relating to the impact of technology are that 1 technology faculty members lives and work and faculty development are inextricably bound together 2 learning by doing is effective learning 3 the rapidity of technological change and its importance for education will neither diminish nor disappear and 4 it is imperative for us to reflect and then to act in increasingly vigorous ways on the possibilities and realities of technological change We can do so positively and with enthusiasm about improving the quality of all that we have been seeking to do for centuries structuring ever more effectively the formalized education and subsequent enlightenment of those who come after us and of ourselves in the process These thoughts are offered as an invitation to readers to reflect to affirm or redefine thoughts still forming and finally to act in the effort we are all making to incorporate exciting new technological capabilities into our changing world of higher education This is the 76th issue of the quarterly journal New Directions for Teaching and Learning American Book Publishing Record ,2004 Conference Proceedings ,1997 IEEE International Engineering Management Conference ,2003
