Managing Human Capital in Today's Globalization Heru Susanto, Fang-Yie Leu, Chin Kang Chen, Fadzliwati Mohiddin, 2019-10-23 This book explores important issues in human capital in human resource management as it relates to management information systems (MIS). It highlights how management information systems are implemented and the potential for employee resistance offering behavioral strategies to involve employees in adopting effective MIS and in overcoming resistance during change. The authors also look at the available research that focuses on the changing skills requirements of employees in the context of both MIS perspectives and HRM perspectives. They address how current trends have evolved into a hyper emerging market of competitive advantage and fast changing environments toward globalization. The authors also address workforce planning and management systems, strategic human resource management, re engineering work processes for improved productivity, work force diversity, the integration of MIS, HRIS and employee involvement, human resource globalization and MIS implications, the impact of digital technology on decentralized work sites, organizational continuous improvement programs.

Getting Skills Right Incentives for SMEs to Invest in Skills Lessons from European Good Practices OECD, 2021-12-17 Workers' skills are an essential asset for firms to recover from the COVID-19 shock and succeed in the twin digital and green transitions. Small and Medium sized Enterprises (SMEs) face special barriers to investing in human capital because of their size and more limited access to information and capital markets. This report identifies policies that are successful in promoting SMEs' investment in the skills of employees, managers or entrepreneurs. Master Budget
