Visual Notetaking James David Rockefeller, Notetaking is a skill that can be learned from other sources but it is a skill that must be practiced The practice of notetaking will w students to review material without relying solely on their memories Not all students have good note taking skills and some would argue that the traditional method of notetaking is not the most useful method for all students. The Visual Notetaking Strategy is defined as the recording of relevant information non-linguistically. The method involves drawing pictures. It is a simple way of using keywords and diagrams to map relationships between concepts in representations. Notetaking is a skill that takes time to practice, but it makes a tremendous difference in grades and more importantly improves the ability to learn and feel successful.
