How To Choose Remote Data Entry Jobs For Teens:

Youth and Employment in Sub-Saharan Africa Hiroyuki Hino, Gustav Ranis, 2014-06-05 It is widely acknowledged that youth unemployment is one of the most critical challenges facing countries in Sub Saharan Africa This volume brings together an eminent group of international scholars to analyse the extent and complex nature of this joblessness and offer a set of evidence based policy choices that could contribute to solving the problem in the short and long run Part I reviews the existing literature on youth unemployment and underemployment in Sub Saharan Africa from microeconomic and macroeconomic perspectives while Part II goes on to present detailed country studies of Ethiopia Ghana Kenya and South Africa These studies offer a deep understanding of the situation on the ground and consider country specific solutions Throughout the book it is argued that the standard ILO definition of unemployment is too narrow to correctly portray employment situations in Sub Saharan Africa Several alternative measures of unemployment are presented which show that joblessness is far more pervasive than commonly assumed in the literature This volume will be of interest to academics and policy makers involved in African development

Youth Employment in Sub-Saharan Africa Deon Filmer, Louise Fox, 2014-01-24 This book focuses on how to improve the quality of jobs and meet the aspirations of youth in Sub Saharan Africa It finds that a strong foundation for human capital development can be key to boosting earnings arguing for a balanced approach that builds skills and demand for labor

High Tech and High Heels in the Global Economy Carla Freeman, 2000-03-15 High Tech and High Heels in the Global Economy is an ethnography of globalization positioned at the intersection between political economy and cultural studies Carla Freeman s fieldwork in Barbados grounds the processes of transnational capitalism production consumption and the crafting of modern identities in the lives of Afro Caribbean women working in a new high tech industry called informatics It places gender at the center of transnational analysis and local Caribbean culture and history at the center of global studies Freeman examines the expansion of the global assembly line into the realm of computer based work and focuses specifically on the incorporation of young Barbadian women into these high tech informatics jobs As such Caribbean women are seen as integral not simply to the workings of globalization but as helping to shape its very form Through the enactment of professionalism in both appearances and labor practices and by insisting that motherhood and work go hand in hand they re define the companies profile of ideal workers and create their own pink collar identities Through new modes of dress and imagemaking the informatics workers seek to distinguish themselves from factory workers and to achieve these new modes of consumption they engage in a wide array of extra income earning activities Freeman argues that for the new Barbadian pink collar workers the globalization of production cannot be viewed apart from the globalization of consumption In doing so she shows the connections between formal and informal economies and challenges long standing oppositions between first world consumers and third world producers as well as white collar and blue collar labor Written in a style that allows the voices of the pink collar workers to demonstrate the simultaneous burdens and pleasures of their work High Tech and High Heels in the Global Economy will appeal to scholars and students in a wide range of disciplines including anthropology cultural studies sociology women s studies political economy and Caribbean studies as well as labor and postcolonial studies Resources in Education ,1992
