Cinema and Technology Stephen Neale, 1985 Cinema and Technology Stephen Neale, 1985 Cinema and Technology Stephen Neale, 1985-01-01 The Cinema Book Bloomsbury Publishing, 2019-07-25 The Cinema Book is widely recognised as the ultimate guide to cinema Authoritative and comprehensive the third edition has been extensively revised updated and expanded in response to developments in cinema and cinema studies Lavishly illustrated in colour this edition features a wealth of exciting new sections and in depth case studies Sections address Hollywood and other World cinema histories key genres in both fiction and non fiction film issues such as stars technology and authorship and major theoretical approaches to understanding film Technology and the Making of Experimental Film Culture John Powers, 2023 The Bolex camera 16mm reversal film stocks commercial film laboratories and low budget optical printers were the small gauge media technologies that provided the infrastructure for experimental filmmaking at the height of its cultural impact Technology and the Making of Experimental Film Culture examines how the avant garde embraced these material resources and invested them with meanings and values adjacent to those of semiprofessional film culture By reasserting the physicality of the body in making time lapse and kinesthetic sequences with the Bolex filmmakers conversed with other art forms and integrated broader spheres of humanistic and scientific inquiry into their artistic process Drawing from the photographic qualities of stocks such as Tri X and Kodachrome they discovered pliant metaphors that allowed them to connect their artistic practice to metaphysics spiritualism and Hollywood excess By framing film labs as mystical or adversarial they cultivated an oppositionality that valorized control over the artistic process And by using the optical printer as a tool for excavating latent meaning out of found footage they posited the reworking of images as fundamental to the exploration of personal and cultural identity Providing a wealth of new detail about the making of canonized avant garde classics by such luminaries as Carolee Schneemann Jack Smith and Stan Brakhage as well as rediscovering works from overlooked artists such as Chick Strand Amy Halpern and Gunvor Nelson Technology and the Making of Experimental Film Culture uses technology as a lens for examining the process of making where ideas come from how they are put into practice and how arguments about those ideas foster cultural and artistic commitments and communities Colour Films in Britain Sarah Street, Keith M. Johnston, Paul Frith, Carolyn Rickards, 2021-11-18 The story of Eastmancolor's arrival on the British filmmaking scene is one of intermittent trial and error intense debate and speculation before gradual acceptance This book traces the journey of its adoption in British Film and considers its lasting significance as one of the most important technical innovations in film history Through original archival research and interviews with key figures within the industry the authors examine the role of Eastmancolor in relation to key areas of British cinema since the 1950s including its economic and structural histories different studio and industrial strategies and the wider aesthetic changes that took place with the mass adoption of colour Their analysis of British cinema through the lens of colour produces new interpretations of key British film genres including social realism historical and costume drama science fiction horror crime documentary and even sex films They explore how colour communicated meaning in films ranging from the Carry On series to Monty Python's Life of Brian 1979 from Lawrence of Arabia 1962 to A Passage to India 1984 and from Goldfinger 1964 to 1984 and in the work of key directors and cinematographers of both popular and art cinema including Nicolas Roeg Ken Russell Ridley Scott Peter Greenaway and Chris Menges

A History of Experimental Film and Video A.L. Rees, 2019-07-25 Avant garde film is almost indefinable It is in a constant state of change and redefinition In his highly acclaimed history of experimental film A L Rees tracks the movement of the film avant garde between the cinema and modern art with its postmodern coda But he also reconstitutes the film avant garde as an independent form of art practice with its own internal logic and aesthetic discourse In this revised and updated edition Rees introduces experimental film and video to new readers interested in the wider cinema as well as offering a guide to enthusiasts of avant garde film and new media arts Ranging from C zanne and Dada via Cocteau Brakhage and Le Grice to the new wave of British film and video artists from the 1990s to the present day this expansive study situates avant garde film between the cinema and the gallery with many links to sonic as well as visual arts The new edition includes a review of current scholarship in avant garde film history and includes updated reading and viewing lists It also features a new introduction and concluding chapter which assess the rise of video projection in the gallery since the millennium and describe new work by the latest generation of experimental film makers The new edition is richly illustrated with images of the art works discussed

Early Discourses on Colour and Cinema Eirik Frisvold Hanssen, 2006

War Faces on Screen Katy Parry, Mani Sharpe, 2025-12-11 How have images of the face been used to document and distort the phenomenon of war Such is the question that drives this book with the face forming a recurring almost ubiquitous motif throughout visual depictions of military conflict At once interdisciplinary transnational and transhistorical War Faces on Screen is organised into three sections Section One examines representations of the face in war photography illustrating how photographers have visualised the invisible violence of psychic trauma Ethical and political concerns are at the forefront of each essay from the advocacy work of portraiture to AI tools capable of generating a range of aesthetically convincing yet potentially discriminatory images Section Two focuses on the aesthetics of the cinematic close up drone vision and how the selective digital colourisation of bodies and faces from archival footage works to impose a moral hierarchy Section Three concludes the book with a focus on colonisation decolonisation and defacement extending earlier discussions of the imperial violence found in recent Hollywood films where empathy is displaced from the ethnic other to the suffering Western soldier Our final chapters chart how the face is central to articulating the meaning and sentiment of colonial and civil wars with even seemingly progressive documentaries perpetuating unequal power dynamics and problematic notions of victimhood Foregrounding the work of artists and practitioners alongside theoretical frameworks War Faces on Screen ultimately forms a radically innovative contribution to the study of image making and war making
