Jungian Perspectives on Clinical Supervision Paul Kugler, 1995 The role of supervision in the training of clinical psychologists social workers psychiatrists and psychoanalysts has in recent years taken on increasing importance Even though supervision has long been an essential part of the training of psychotherapists remarkably little was written on the subject until ten years ago This volume addresses the need for more open discussion of the various facets of supervision and the training of analytic candidates with chapters by leaders in the field on elaborating technique elucidating transference and counter transference issues proposing direction and focus to clinical inquiry suggesting dynamic and archetypal formulations of the analytic process and exploring repetitive patterns of behaviour thought and fantasy This collection embodies an essential reference source for supervising psychoanalysts and therapists as well as training candidates graduate students in social work and clinical psychology and psychiatry residents Cambridge 2001 Mary Ann Mattoon, Robert Hinshaw, 2003 The Fifteenth Triannual Congress of the International Association for Analytical Psychology IAAP took place on the grounds of St John's College in Cambridge England from 19 to 24 August 2001 It was a memorable occasion both in its preparation and its incarnation and the present volume is meant to preserve at least a portion of what transpired the papers comprising the program The presentations and events were more far reaching and all inclusive than ever before incorporating numerous political and intercultural issues and including representatives from psychoanalysis and other fields of endeavour for the first time Spiritual Aspects of Clinical Work Ann Ulanov, How does the spirit come into clinical work Through the analyst In the analyst's work in the analysis What happens to human destructiveness if we embrace a vision of non violence Do dreams open us to spiritual life What is the difference between repetition compulsion and ritual How does religion feed terrorism What happens if analysts must wrestle with hate in themselves Do psychotherapy and spirituality compete or contradict or converse with each other What does religion uniquely offer beyond what psychoanalysis can do to our surviving and thriving This book abounds with such important questions and discussions of their answers Values And Ethics In The Practice of Psychotherapy And Counselling Fiona Palmer Barnes, Lesley Mordin, 2001 The work of every school of psychotherapy and every therapist is inevitably structured by a value system and requires codes of ethics and practice This book addresses the conscious and unconscious aspects of the value system in which therapists are situated Values and Ethics in the Practice of Psychotherapy and Counselling explores the central issues through the experience of the contributors each of whom is well known in this field Each chapter will raise questions for the reader which will stimulate individual thinking about practice or can form a basis for discussion and debate for training or graduate groups The book is firmly rooted in practice Each chapter deals with a different aspect of the psychotherapist's work beginning with the general underlying principles continuing through matters of technique and on to contextual issues Finally the book moves to the outer world politics and spirituality as ways of connecting inner and outer social and individual The arrangement of chapters allows for flexibility and creativity while providing a coherent structure Values and Ethics in the Practice of Psychotherapy and Counselling is recommended reading for psychotherapists psychoanalysts and counsellors in training and practice
