De Ludo Globi The Game Of Spheres:

De Ludo Globi Cardinal Nicholas (of Cusa),1986 Nicholas of Cusa. In Search of God and Wisdom Gerald

Christianson,T.M. Izbicki,2021-11-01 Nicholas of Cusa d 1464 was one of the most original thinkers of the Renaissance This collection examines from several viewpoints his speculative thought and reviews his ideas on dialogue with non Christians in the light of his theories The collection opens with a review of the origins of modern Cusanus scholarship At its heart is a series on Nicholas quest for God his comprehension of the cosmos and his views on the intellect also on his approach to non Christians It concludes with an essay on the relationship of Cusanus life to his theories and a bibliographic review of Cusanus scholarship in the English language This collection will serve as a microcosm of the present scholarship in English on a complex and versatile theorist The bibliography of Cusanus scholarship will enable interested readers to explore other themes and other viewpoints not encompassed by these essays Laws Of Form: A Fiftieth Anniversary Louis H

Kauffman,Fred Cummins,Randolph Dible,Leon Conrad,Graham Ellsbury,Andrew Crompton,Florian Grote,2023-01-09 Laws of Form is a seminal work in foundations of logic mathematics and philosophy published by G Spencer Brown in 1969 The book provides a new point of view on form and the role of distinction markedness and the absence of distinction the unmarked state in the construction of any universe A conference was held August 8 10 2019 at the Old Library Liverpool University 19 Abercromby Square L697ZN UK to celebrate the 50th anniversary of the publication of Laws of Form and to remember George Spencer Brown its author The book is a collection of papers introducing and extending Laws of Form written primarily by people who attended the conference in 2019 Cusanus Today David Albertson,2024-06 At the end of the nineteenth century German theologians and philosophers rediscovered the Renaissance cardinal Nicholas of Cusa 1401 1464 Immediately they hailed Cusanus as the first modern thinker a brilliant German rival to the French Descartes But since the founding of the Cusanus critical edition in 1927 up to its conclusion in 2005 historians have gradually learned that Nicholas was more of a medieval preacher and contemplative than a modern philosopher Yet over the same century modern German and French readers were already digging into Nicholas s many works There they encountered an exciting voice with fresh perspectives about God s immanence in the cosmos and the awesome capacities of the human mind Leading philosophers and theologians from Erich Przywara to Karl Jaspers to Hans Georg Gadamer and from Gilles Deleuze to Jacques Lacan to Michel de Certeau found their own thinking stimulated by the cardinal s innovative concepts and interdisciplinary style Even as Nicholas shifted from modern to medieval among historians he was emerging as a contemporary interlocutor for moderns and postmoderns Who could have guessed that the first debate between Jean Luc Marion and Emmanuel Falque would take place over the fifteenth century mystical dialogue De visione dei If Meister Eckhart found his moment amidst Deconstruction in prior decades Nicholas of Cusa is our thinker for today His interests anticipate themes in continental philosophy of religion whether alterity invisibility the fold or the icon His habit of interweaving philosophy and theology anticipates current debates on the thresholds of phenomenology Our volume first maps the contours of modern receptions of Nicholas of Cusa in French and German spheres and then beyond Europe to the Americas and Japan It also hosts the next round of engagement by some of today's most original Christian thinkers Emmanuel Falque John Milbank and David Bentley Hart

Mathematical Theologies David Albertson, 2014 The writings of theologians Thierry of Chartres d 1157 and Nicholas of Cusa d 1464 represent a lost history of momentous encounters between Christianity and Pythagorean ideas before the Renaissance Their robust Christian Neopythagoreanism reconceived the Trinity and the Incarnation within the framework of Greek number theory challenging our contemporary assumptions about the relation of religion and modern science David Albertson surveys the slow formation of theologies of the divine One from the Old Academy through ancient Neoplatonism into the Middle Ages Against this backdrop Thierry of Chartres's writings stand out as the first authentic retrieval of Neopythagoreanism within western Christianity By reading Boethius and Augustine against the grain Thierry reactivated a suppressed potential in ancient Christian traditions that harmonized the divine Word with notions of divine Number Despite achieving fame during his lifetime Thierry's ideas remained well outside the medieval mainstream Three centuries later Nicholas of Cusa rediscovered anonymous fragments of Thierry and his medieval readers and drew on them liberally in his early works Yet tensions among this collection of sources forced Cusanus to reconcile their competing understandings of Word and Number Over several decades Nicholas eventually learned how to articulate traditional Christian doctrines within a fully mathematized cosmology anticipating the situation of modern Christian thought after the seventeenth century Mathematical Theologies skillfully guides readers through the newest scholarship on Pythagoreanism the school of Chartres and Cusanus while revising some of the categories that have separated those fields in the past

Infinity, Faith, and Time John Spencer Hill, 1997 Infinity Faith and Time is an exploration of Renaissance literature and the importance of a powerful tradition of Christian Platonist rational spirituality derived from St Augustine and Nicholas of Cusa John Spencer Hill argues that this tradition had

Image and Imagination of the Religious Self in Late Medieval and Early Modern Europe Reindert Leonard Falkenburg, Walter S. Melion, Todd M. Richardson, 2007 The articles within this volume explore some of the diverse medieval constructions and representations of the soul

Nicholas of Cusa and the Renaissance Ferdinand Edward Cranz, 2000 This volume brings together Professor Cranz's published studies on Nicholas of Cusa with a set of seven papers left unpublished at the time of his death Their subjects are the speculative thought of Cusanus and his relationship with the broader themes of the Renaissance Particular attention is given to patterns of development in Cusanus thought as he wrestled with problems of divine transcendence and the limits of human capacities Overall these studies also reveal Professor Cranz's interest in the larger changes in Western modes of thought during the Middle Ages and the Renaissance which define our ways of thinking as different from those of Antiquity
