Proceedings of the ... Annual Convention of the Texas Division, United Daughters of the Confederacy United Daughters of the Confederacy. Texas Division, 1915 The Essential Mystery Lists Roger M Sobin, 2011-09-30 For the first time in one place Roger M Sobin has compiled a list of nominees and award winners of virtually every mystery award ever presented He has also included many of the best of lists by more than fifty of the most important contributors to the genre Mr Sobin spent more than two decades gathering the data and lists in this volume much of that time he used to recheck the accuracy of the material he had collected Several of the best of lists appear here for the first time in book form Several others have been unavailable for a number of years Of special note are Anthony Boucher's Best Picks for the Year Boucher one of the major mystery reviewers of all time reviewed for The San Francisco Chronicle Ellery Queen Mystery Magazine and The New York Times From these resources Mr Sobin created Boucher's Best and Important Lists to Consider lists that provide insight into important writing in the field from 1942 through Boucher's death in 1968 This is a great resource for all mystery readers and collectors Winner of the 2008 Macavity Awards for Best Mystery Nonfiction Dead Silence and Other Stories of the Jeju Massacre Kir-ŏn Hyŏn, 2007 The years 1945-1950 were turbulent times in Korea Proponents of two very different ideologies were struggling for control of the country and many innocent people were killed in the struggle One of the most tragic and until now largely unknown events during this period occurred on Jeju Island in 1948 On April 3 of that year a communist uprising that enjoyed significant support within the local communities was brutally suppressed by the police and military forces of the Korean government with guidance from the American military It is estimated that at least 30 000 people many of them innocent civilians were killed in the brutal massacre ordered by President Syngman Rhee And yet very few people either within or outside of Korea have a clear understanding of the enormity of this event for an eerie silence has surrounded it for the last 50 years Islanders who survived the event have remained silent about it largely out of fear of how they might be implicated in it or associated with the communist forces in Korea if it were openly discussed This is the story of The Jeju Massacre a story that needs to be told The short stories by Hyun Kil Un brought together in this collection are all set on Jeju Island in and around the time of the Jeju Massacre Each story offers its own unique perspective on the events surrounding the massacre and the connections between the stories provide readers with a deep multi-faceted understanding of the incident This fictional exploration of the Jeju Massacre dramatically illustrates how innocent people are the victims of ideologies how truth can be concealed on such a large scale and how the revelation of truth can be so practices regarding the dead and the afterlife that took place between the rabbinic period and medieval times She reveals that a huge influx of Germano Christian beliefs customs and fears relating to the dead and the afterlife seeped into medieval Ashkenazi society among both elite and popular groups In matters of sin penance and posthumous punishment the infiltration of Christian notions was so strong as to effect a radical departure in Pietist thinking from rabbinic thought and to spur outright contradiction of talmudic principles regarding the realm of the hereafter Although it is primarily a study of the culture of a medieval Jewish enclave this book demonstrates how seminal beliefs of medieval Christendom and monastic ideals could take root in a society with contrary religious values even in the realm of doctrinal belief Saints Who Raised the Dead Fr.
