Deadly Innocents:

Cycles, Sequels, Spin-offs, Remakes, and Reboots Amanda Ann Klein, R. Barton Palmer, 2016-03-15 With sequels prequels remakes spin offs or copies of successful films or franchises dominating film and television production it sometimes seems as if Hollywood is incapable of making an original film or TV show These textual pluralities or multiplicities while loved by fans who flock to them in droves tend to be dismissed by critics and scholars as markers of the death of high culture Cycles Sequels Spin offs Remakes and Reboots takes the opposite view surveying a wide range of international media multiplicities for the first time to elucidate their importance for audiences industrial practices and popular culture The essays in this volume offer a broad picture of the ways in which cinema and television have used multiplicities to streamline the production process and to capitalize on and exploit viewer interest in previously successful and or sensational story properties An impressive lineup of established and emerging scholars talk seriously about forms of multiplicity that are rarely discussed as such including direct to DVD films made in Nigeria cross cultural Japanese horror remakes YouTube fan generated trailer mash ups and 1970s animal revenge films They show how considering the particular bonds that tie texts to one another allows us to understand more about the audiences for these texts and why they crave a version of the same story or character or subject over and over again These findings demonstrate that far from being lowbrow art multiplicities are actually doing important cultural work that is very worthy of serious study My Nine Lives Carla Cohn, 2010 This book is the story of a girl who originally came from a highly cultured family of whom she became the sole survivor Her extreme suffering in concentration camps mutilated her emotionally but in spite of it she managed to lead a highly constructive life but the building of a truly satisfactory personal life was beyond the possible The Deadly Innocents Muriel GARDINER, 1985

Ian McEwan Irena Księżopolska, 2024-04-30 This book offers a discussion of seven canonical novels by Ian McEwan The Cement Garden The Comfort of Strangers The Child in Time The Innocent Black Dogs Atonement On Chesil Beach introducing radical new readings which are offered not as ultimate and conclusive solutions of the textual puzzles but as possibilities to engage with the text creatively to enrich the critical consensus and restore interpretative freedom to the readers This project formulates a strategy of inclusive reading an approach to the text that does not seek to reduce it to a single interpretation and yet is comprehensively informed through the analysis of the primary text critical discussion authorial comments and the context of the composition Each reading demonstrates the metafictional structure of the texts indicating that McEwan's works may be treated as invitations to roam within their worlds examining the multiple frames of their structure and the meanings generated thereby All the chapters attend to submerged repressed or deliberately masked voices The Cement Garden is seen as a multi layered dream with a shifting hierarchy of dreamers The Comfort of Strangers is viewed as an inverted metafiction with insubstantial characters corrupting more complex heroes The Child in Time is read as Stephen's book written for his dead daughter The Innocent as a memory narrative of Leonard who refuses to notice Maria s role as a spy In Black Dogs the over exposure of unreliability is studied as a screen for personal trauma in the analysis of Atonement Briony s claim to authorship is questioned and Cecilia is suggested as an alternative narrative agent Finally examining On Chesil Beach both characters voices are reconstructed in search of the superior narrative power which in the end is seen to be elusive as the text seeks to undermine the hierarchy of voices

Deadly Innocence Scott Burnside, Alan Cairns, 2008-10-22 Karla and Paul seemed like the picture perfect newlyweds but were really a pair of vicious killers who abducted sexually tortured and murdered innocent schoolgirls videotaping their evil acts in suburban Niagara Falls Billed as the crime of the century in Canada this case has received a great deal of media coverage on both sides of the border Includes eight pages of photos
