Funny Writings of Jeffrey Brian Romeo Jeffrey Brian Romeo, 2024-11-24 This is my third book It pretty much follows similar writing subjects and patterns as my first two books All poems are written in song format with verses and choruses and sometimes a bridge Some may even have a few chords or riffs to go along I tried to keep a balance of fiction and non fiction as well as dark and happy places I typically put myself into a character role when I write so don't be worried about my sanity it's just a way that I can justify anything I say I do hope the songs make you think smile grimace or even shed a tear

Canadian Film and Video Loren R. Lerner, 1997-01-01 This extensive bibliography and reference guide is an invaluable resource for researchers, practitioners, students, and anyone with an interest in Canadian film and video. With over 24,500 entries, of which 10,500 are annotated, it opens up the literature devoted to Canadian film and video at last, making it readily accessible to scholars and researchers. Drawing on both English and French sources, it identifies books, catalogues, government reports, theses, and periodical and newspaper articles from Canadian and non-Canadian publications from the first decade of the twentieth century to 1989. The work is bilingual; descriptive annotations are presented in the language(s) of the original publication. Canadian Film and Video Film et vidéo canadiens provides an in-depth guide to the work of over 4,000 individuals working in film and video and 5,000 films and videos. The entries in Volume I cover topics such as film types, the role of government, laws and legislation, censorship, festivals and awards, production and distribution companies, education, cinema buildings, women and film and video art. A major section covers filmmakers, video artists, cinematographers, actors, producers, and various other film people.
