Days Of Victory Canadians Remember 1939 1945:

Days of Victory Theodore Barris, Ted Barris, Alex Barris, 1995 In the spring of 45 peace was in the air in Canada and in Europe When VE Day finally came it erupted with glorious celebrations tears and cries of victory It was a sweet day and a bitter one for millions of people whose lives had been forever changed This day and long days of war that led to it are brought to life in Days of Victory More than 300 Canadians tell their own stories of the Second World War stories of courage sacrifice tragedy and glory It was one of the most trying times in Canadian history and these ordinary men and women rose to the extraordinary challenge laid before them Their stories are celebrated here woven into a compelling narrative of the Canadian wartime experience bringing the past vividly to life Dust jacket The Great Escape Ted Barris, 2013-09-16 A unique retelling of WWII's most dramatic escape told through first hand recollections of the soldiers who experienced it On the night of March 24 1944 80 Commonwealth airmen crawled through a 336 foot long tunnel and slipped into the forest beyond the wire of Stalag Luft III a German POW compound near Sagan Poland The event became known as The Great Escape an intricate breakout more than a year in the making involving as many as 2 000 POWs working with extraordinary coordination intelligence and daring Yet within a few days all but three of the escapees were recaptured Subsequently 50 were murdered cremated and buried in a remote corner of the prison camp But most don't know the real story behind The Great Escape Now on the eve of its 70th anniversary Ted Barris writes of the key players in the escape attempt those who got away those who didn't and their families at home Barris marshals groundbreaking research into a compelling firsthand account For the first time The Great Escape retells one of the most astonishing episodes in WWII directly through the eyes of those who experienced it Joint Winner of the Libris Award for Non Fiction Book of the Year 2014 Globe and Mail Bestseller Toronto Star Bestseller Remembrance Day Plays for Schools and Communities, 2010-08-04 The historical plays in this resource contain age appropriate content that can be used to engage children in the stories of the struggles sacrifices and triumphs that Canadians of all walks of life endured in the dark and dangerous days of wartime Behind the Glory Ted Barris, 2010-10-26 In this 60th anniversary edition is Ted Barris telling of the unique story of Canada's largest World War II expenditure 1.75 billion in a Commonwealth wide training scheme based in Canada that supplied the Allied air war with nearly a quarter of a million qualified airmen Within its five year life span the BCATP supplied a continuous flow of battle ready pilots navigators wireless radio operators air gunners flight engineers riggers and fitters or more commonly known as ground crew principally for the RCAF and RAF as well as the USAAF While the story of so many men graduating from the most impressive air training scheme in history is compelling enough Ted Barris offers the untold story of the instructors the men behind the glory who taught those airmen the vital air force trades that ensure Allied victory over Europe North Africa and the Pacific In Winston Churchill's words the BCATP proved the decisive factor in winning the Second World War This 60th anniversary edition arrives as Canada continues to celebrate 2005 as the Year of the Veteran Ted Barris interviewed more than 200 instructors and using their anecdotes and viewpoints he recounts the story of the flyers who coped with the dangers of training missions and the frustration of fighting the war thousands of miles away from the front without losing their enthusiasm for flying

Selling British Columbia Michael Dawson, 2007-10-01 Selling British Columbia is an entertaining examination of the development of the tourist industry in British Columbia between 1890 and 1970 Michael Dawson argues that in order to understand the roots of the fully fledged consumer culture that emerged in Canada after the Second World War it is necessary to understand the connections between the 1930s 1940s and the postwar era Cultural producers such as tourism promoters and the state infrastructure played important roles in fostering consumer demand particularly during the Depression the Second World War and throughout the postwar era Dawson draws upon promotional pamphlets newspapers advertisements and films as well as archival sources regarding government civic and international tourism organizations Central to his book is an examination of the representation of popular imagery and of how aboriginal and British cultures were commodified and marketed to potential tourists He also looks at the gendered aspect of these promotional campaigns particularly during the 1940s and challenges earlier interpretations regarding the relationship between tourism and nature in Canada Historians have tended to focus on either the first wave of consumerism from the 1880s to the 1920s or else on the era of economic expansion that followed World War Two As Dawson shows the 1930-45 period in particular was an important and dynamic one in the creation of Canadian and British Columbian consumer culture Michael Dawson's highly readable and engaging account of the development of the British Columbia tourist industry will be welcomed by British Columbian and Canadian historians as well as other scholars of tourism and consumerism

Breaking the Silence Ted Barris, 2011-10-10 Never talked about it That's what most people say when they're asked if the veteran in the family ever shared wartime experiences Describing combat imprisonment or lost comrades from the World Wars the Korea War or even Afghanistan is reserved for Remembrance Day or the Legion lounge Nobody was ever supposed to see them get emotional show their vulnerability Nobody was ever to know the hell of their war About 25 years ago Ted Barris began breaking through the silence Because of his unique interviewing skills he found that veterans would talk to him set the record straight and put a face on the service and sacrifice of men and women in uniform As a result of his work on 15 previous books Barris has earned a reputation of trust among Canada's veterans Indeed over the years nearly 3 000 of them have shared their memories all offering original material for his books Among other revelations in Breaking the Silence veterans of the Great War reflect on an extraordinary first Armistice in 1918 decorated Second World War fighter pilots talk about their thirst for blood in the sky Canadian POWs explain how they survived Chinese attempts to brainwash them during the Korean War and soldiers with the Afghanistan mission talk about the horrors of the friendly fire incident near Kandahar Breaking the Silence is a ground breaking book that goes to the heart of veterans' war time experiences

Deadlock in Korea Ted Barris, 2010-05-22 Between 1950 and 1953 nearly 30 000 Canadian volunteers joined the effort to contain communist incursions into South Korea and support the fledgling United Nations All the services were there and all served with distinction The Royal Canadian Navy led a daring rescue of troops from the port of Chinnampo in 1950 members of the Princess Patricia s Canadian Light Infantry won the highest US battle honour at Kap yong in April 1951 the Vandoos turned the tide at Hill 355 and twice at Hill 355 in October 1952 and Hill 187 in May 1953 members of the Royal Canadian Regiment held firm against forces that greatly outnumbered them The navy and the infantry were bolstered by the Royal Canadian Horse Artillery and Lord Strathcona s Horse tanks as well as members of the service medical engineers provost chaplain and intelligence corps Still more from the RCAF Thunderbird Squadron took part in the Korean Airlift three years of non stop supply flights across the Pacific

Directorate of History and Heritage,1997 Canadian military history and military matters have not been well represented in general in retrospective bibliographies of Canadian or in international military bibliographies What has been attempted in this document is a bibliography of published primary sources and secondary works on Canadian military topics excluding poetry and fiction covering the period from Confederation to the present Entries in the bibliography represent printed monographs books and pamphlets and serial titles The prime criteria of inclusion were that the work be chiefly or uniquely both Canadian and military in its contents Many in house publications of the training pamphlet or regulations type have been included but only insofar as they tell us something of the armed forces themselves rather than details of tactical doctrine or of pieces of equipment Works by or about Canadians serving with the armed forces of other countries have been included as well as materials relating to the military history of Newfoundland since 1867
