Contemporary Irish Playwrights is unrivalled in its study of recent plays and playwrights Masculinities and Manhood in Contemporary Irish Drama Cormac O'Brien, 2021-12-10 This book charts the journey in terms of both stasis and change that masculinities and manhood have made in Irish drama and by extension in the broader culture and society from the 1960s to the present Examining a diverse corpus of drama and theatre events both mainstream and on the fringe this study critically elaborates a seismic shift in Irish masculinities This book argues then that Irish manhood has shifted from embodying and enacting post colonial concerns of nationalism and national identity to performing models of masculinity that are driven and moulded by the political and cultural practices of neoliberal capitalism Masculinities and Manhood in Contemporary Irish Drama charts this shift through chapters on performing masculinity in plays set in both the Irish Republic and Northern Ireland and through several chapters that focus on Women's and Queer drama It thus takes its readers on a journey a journey that begins with an overtly patriarchal nationalist manhood that often made direct comment on the state of the nation and ultimately arrives at several arguably regressive forms of globalised masculinity which are couched in misaligned notions of individualism and free choice and that frequently perceive themselves as being in crisis Playing for Time Geraldine Cousin, 2013-03-31 Playing for time explores connections between theatre time the historical moment and fictional time Geraldine Cousin persuasively argues that a crucial characteristic of contemporary British theatre is its preoccupation with instability and danger and traces images of catastrophe and loss in a wide range of recent plays and productions The diversity of the texts that are examined is a major strength of the book In addition to plays by contemporary dramatists Cousin analyses staged adaptations of novels and productions of plays by Euripides Strindberg and Priestley A key focus is Stephen Daldry's award winning revival of Priestley's An Inspector Calls which is discussed in relation both to other Priestley time plays and to Caryl Churchill's apocalyptic Far Away, Lost Children are a recurring motif Bryony Lavery's Frozen for example is explored in the context of the Soham murders which took place while the play was in production at the National Theatre whilst three virtually simultaneous productions of Euripides Hecuba are interpreted with regard to the Beslan massacre of schoolchildren Contemporary Irish Drama Anthony Roche, 2009-07-31 This new edition of Anthony Roche's pioneering survey of twentieth century Irish drama brings the story up to date with new material on the contemporary Irish theatre scene A Century of Irish Drama Stephen Watt, Eileen Morgan, Shakir Mustafa, 2000 Based on essays originally presented at a symposium entitled Nationalism and a national theatre 100 years of Irish drama convened at Indiana University May 26-29 1999 Irish Women Writers Alexander G. Gonzalez, 2006 Irish women writers have a large following and their works are attracting large amounts of scholarly and critical attention Through roughly 75 alphabetically arranged entries written by more than 35 expert contributors this reference overviews the lives and works of Irish women writers active in a range of genres and periods Each entry includes a brief biography a discussion of major works and themes a survey of the writer's critical reception and a list of works by and about the author The volume closes with a selected general

Globalization is transforming theatre everywhere As writers seek to exploit new opportunities to produce their work internationally audiences are seeing the world and the stage differently And as national borders became more fluid the barriers between economics and culture are also becoming weaker In this groundbreaking study Patrick Lonergan explores these developments placing them in the context of the transformation of Ireland the most globalized country in the world since the early 1990s Drawing on archival material that has never before been published this study sheds new light on the culture of Celtic Tiger Ireland focusing on such writers as Brian Friel Sean O'Casey Marie Jones Martin McDonagh Marina Carr and Conor McPherson In doing so it shows how globalization poses difficult questions for authors and audiences and reveals how we can begin to come to terms with these new developments Litteraria Pragensia, 2000 Studies in Literature and Culture The Abbey Theatre, 1899-1999 Robert Welch, 1999 A century ago this year productions of W.B. Yeats's The Countess Cathleen and Edward Martyn's The Heather Field inaugurated the Irish Literary Theatre which was to take its name from its home in Abbey Street Dublin Despite riot fire and critical controversy the Abbey Theatre has housed Ireland's National Theatre ever since at once the catalyst and focus for the almost unprecedented renaissance of drama witnessed by Ireland in the twentieth century This is the first history of the Abbey to discuss the plays and the personalities in their underlying historical and political context to give due weight to the theatre's work in Irish and to take stock of its artistic and financial development up to the present The research for the book draws extensively on archive sources especially the manuscript holdings on the Abbey at the National Library of Ireland Many outstanding plays are examined with detailed analysis of their form and their affective and emotional content and persistent themes in the Abbey's output are identified visions of an ideal community the revival of Irish the hunger for land and money the restrictions of a society undergoing profound change But these are integrated with accounts of the Abbey's people from Yeats Martyn and Lady Gregory whose brainchild it was to the actors playwrights directors and managers who have followed among them the Fays Synge O'Casey Murray Robinson Shiels Johnston Murphy Molloy Friel McGuinness Deevy Carr and many others The role of directors and policy makers and the struggle for financial security subsidy and new style partnerships is discussed as a crucial part of the theatre's continuing evolution Australasian Drama Studies ,2003 After History Martin Procházka,2006 Dissident Dramaturgies Eamonn Jordan,2010 From Boston to Berlin and from Belfast to Beijing the performances of Irish plays have been greeted with critical and box office acclaim Plays by Marina Carr Brian Friel Marie Jones Martin McDonagh Frank McGuinness Tom Murphy Mark O Rowe Conor McPherson and Enda Walsh have toured extensively and have been translated and adapted for new performance contexts This book examines the dominant approaches and the recurrent and variable dramaturgical patterns in the writings of the contemporary generation of writers from 1980 to the present Six very specific dominant configurations or constructions that shape the blatant dramaturgy of Irish Theatre will be considered in individual chapters that focus the relationships between history memory and metatheatre how the notion of innocence is contested the various deployments of a range of myths by contemporary playwrights the consequences of perverting pastoral consciousness and the implications and repercussions of storytelling to a tradition of writing In all of the work produced both locally and abroad Ireland and a coerced and admired notion of Irishness function in part as a commodity but also as something uniquely defiant liberating and dissident in itself Bullán ,2001 Frank McGuinness and His Theatre of Paradox Hiroko Mikami,2002 Frank McGuinness and His Theatre of Paradox is a critical study of one of the most important contemporary Irish dramatists It offers an overview of the McGuinness's drama from his early plays right up to the recent Dolly West's Kitchen Irish University Review ,2008 A journal of Irish studies
