A Companion to American Indie Film Geoff King, 2016-10-19 A Companion to American Indie Film features a comprehensive collection of newly commissioned essays that represent a state of the art resource for understanding key aspects of the field of indie films produced in the United States Takes a comprehensive and fresh new look at the topic of American indie film Features newly commissioned essays from top film experts and emerging scholars that represent the state of the art reference to the indie film field Topics covered include indie film culture key historical moments and movements in indie film history relationships between indie film and other indie media and issues including class gender regional identity and stardom in the indie field Includes studies of many types of indie films and film genres along with various filmmakers and performers that have come to define the field After Hitchcock David Boyd, R. Barton Palmer, 2010-01-01 Alfred Hitchcock is arguably the most famous director to have ever made a film Almost single handedly he turned the suspense thriller into one of the most popular film genres of all time while his Psycho updated the horror film and inspired two generations of directors to imitate and adapt this most Hitchcockian of movies Yet while much scholarly and popular attention has focused on the director's oeuvre until now there has been no extensive study of how Alfred Hitchcock's films and methods have affected and transformed the history of the film medium In this book thirteen original essays by leading film scholars reveal the richness and variety of Alfred Hitchcock's legacy as they trace his shaping influence on particular films filmmakers genres and even on film criticism Some essays concentrate on films that imitate Hitchcock in diverse ways including the movies of Brian de Palma and thrillers such as True Lies The Silence of the Lambs and Dead Again Other essays look at genres that have been influenced by Hitchcock's work including the 1970s paranoid thriller the Italian giallo film and the post Psycho horror film The remaining essays investigate developments within film culture and academic film study including the enthusiasm of French New Wave filmmakers for Hitchcock's work his influence on the filmic representation of violence in the post studio Hollywood era and the ways in which his films have become central texts for film theorists The DePalma Cut Laurent Bouzereau, 1988 Bouzereau follows De Palma's career from his initial association with the exuberant independent filmmaking wave in New York in the early 70s through his combative affiliation with the studios as he developed his seminal themes voyeurism guilt as a motivator and the double Faith and Spirituality in Masters of World Cinema, Volume III Kenneth R. Morefield, Nicholas S. Olson, 2015-02-05 Faith and Spirituality in Masters of World Cinema Volume III continues the work presented in the first two volumes of this title published by Cambridge Scholars Publishing in 2008 and 2011 It provides informed yet accessible articles that will provide readers with an introduction to masters of world cinema whose works explore the themes of human spirituality and religious faith Volume III contains essays dealing with canonical directors notably absent from the first two entries of the series such as De Sica and Hitchcock while also including examinations of contemporary auteurs who are still actively working like Asghar Farhadi and

Apichatpong Weerasethakul While retaining an international emphasis similar to the first two volumes it also includes a focused look at a few American auteurs not yet considered in the series Volume III also acts as an important contribution to canon formation illustrating the complexity and variety in the films of those who are truly the masters of world cinema Built solidly around close formal readings of selective films the essays in Volume III also demonstrate familiarity with film history and bring insight from varied disciplines Framed by the question What makes movies material Volume III continues the series endeavour to have faith and spirituality provide a context for considering what makes cinema significant Casting

Might-Have-Beens Eila Mell, 2015-01-24 Some acting careers are made by one great role and some fall into obscurity when one is declined Would Al Pacino be the star he is today if Robert Redford had accepted the role of Michael Corleone in The Godfather Imagine Tom Hanks rejecting Uma Thurman saying that she acted like someone in a high school play when she auditioned to play opposite him in The Bonfire of the Vanities Picture Danny Thomas as The Godfather or Marilyn Monroe as Cleopatra This reference work lists hundreds of such stories actors who didn't get cast or who turned down certain parts Each entry organized alphabetically by film title gives the character and actor cast a list of other actors considered for that role and the details of the casting decision Information is drawn from extensive research and interviews From About Last Night which John Belushi turned down at his brother's urging to Zulu in which Michael Caine was not cast because he didn't look Cockney enough this book lets you imagine how different your favorite films could have been The Political

Companion to American Film Gary Crowds, 1994 The Political Companion to American Film is an encyclopedic collection of critical essays offering provocative social and political commentary on the work of filmmakers from Woody Allen to Darryl Zanuck and other film personalities from Charles Chaplin to John Wayne film genres from crime Movies to World War II Animated Propaganda Cartoons racial and ethnic portrayals from African Americans to Native Americans social issues from Big Businessmen to the Small Town theoretical and critical issues from the Auteur Theory to Postwar American Film Criticism economic and industrial issues from Conglomerates to the Studio System and much more The Political Companion to American Film features the writing of some of America's leading film critics and authors many of whom are specialists who have literally written the book on their subjects and has been edited by Gary Crowds Editor in Chief of Cineaste America's leading magazine on the art and politics of the cinema The expertise and critical insights of these contributors are conveyed in a colorful comprehensible and jargon free prose style and many of the essays include recommended bibliographies The Political Companion to American Film will enrich the cinematic experience for the average moviegoer as well as the film scholar The Encyclopedia of American Independent Filmmaking Vincent LoBrutto, 2002-12-30 Independent filmmaking is often regarded as a relatively recent phenomenon yet the so called movement has actually existed as long as movies themselves In this indispensable single volume reference work LoBrutto surveys the subject from cinema's inception through the 21st century Written in an accessible style and including biographical critical factual and bibliographical information this remarkable source encompasses films and filmmakers operating independently from the studio system in concept financing production and distribution Such a broad interpretation of independent filmmaking separates it from that of commercial Hollywood a conglomerate existing to create product rather than support personal artistic vision Many of the entries subjects have rarely been investigated and studied yet knowledge of independent filmmaking is vital to any understanding the cinematic medium making this an essential book for any library s film shelves
