De Havilland Dh60 Moth:

The de Havilland DH.60 Moth Stuart McKay, 2016-10-15 The full story of one of the most significant British aircraft of all time

De Havilland DH. 60 Moth Stuart McKay, 2005 This book follows on from Midland's earlier successful book on the De Havilland Tiger Moth and examines the history of the DH60 Moth which was first built in the 1920s and was one of the most significant aircraft built up to that time In the 1920s the Air Ministry aware of the need to encourage an interest in flying in order to have a base of potential recruits for the RAF in a time of crisis produced specifications for an aircraft which could be used by flying clubs which it was subsidizing The officially backed prototypes were not favored and it was de Havilland's freelance DH 60 Moth which first flew in February 1925 that proved ideal The Moth quickly became the ideal private owners airplane As the efficiency of production increased engines were improved and the cost of the aircraft dropped To the DH60 Moth can be directly attributed the beginning of the flying club movement in many parts of the world and the growth of private ownership of light aircraft which is still flourishing today Moths were built under license in France Sweden Finland and the USA They were raced aerobatted in formation used by most long distance pilots of the 1920s and 30s seeking to create records flown on floats and skis and used worldwide by air forces and government agencies The successful Gipsy engine was designed specifically for the DH60 Moth and in 1927 the Moth's wooden airframes evolved into metal structures which spawned the Tiger Moth This book will appeal to members of the Moth Club to the many round the world who have flown or operated the airplane and to those interested in aviation history The content focuses on the early days of the Moth and its pivotal role with the early flying club days but the story of this successful aircraft is carried through to the present day which sees many examples of this historic and seminal aircraft still taking to the skies

De Havilland Moths In Detail Stuart McKay, 2010-11-01 The Moth was designed to be the airplane for the man in the street affordable simple and safe and it inspired a world wide revolution in club flying civil and military training and private ownership The DH60 Moth of 1925 led to a family of light airplanes which continued to evolve and sell all over the world until the very eve of the Second World War when most private flying came to an abrupt end The DH82A Tiger Moth icon of military pilot training throughout the conflict became the standard aircraft for post war flying clubs in many countries and effectively invented the new industry of agricultural aviation In the heady days of pre war civil aviation de Havilland Moth aircraft were supported by a universal network of agents supplying spares and technical assistance They were used for racing and record breaking flights of extreme courage and endurance and small airline activities This new book outlines the early days of the de Havilland Aircraft Company and studies the evolution of each of the Moth family of light airplanes and their engines which took place between 1925 and 1939

British Piston Aero-engines and Their Aircraft Alec Lumsden, 1994 This is a record of more than 250 basic types of British aero engine built between 1909 and 1949 In some 900 variants they powered 300 different types of aircraft both civil and military This volume gives a cross reference of all aircraft engine types variants and the aircraft they powered Flying and Preserving Historic Aircraft David Frederick Ogilvy, 2023-11-23 David Ogilvy has spent more than a full working life in aviation As a schoolboy he was sent out with a bugle and binoculars to blow a warning if a V1 flying bomb appeared Soon after this he joined the Royal Air Force and served for six years as a pilot flying types ranging from the Tiger Moth to the Mosquito and Meteor As a civilian he spent fourteen years involved in pilot training and became Chief Instructor of the Air Schools group with responsibility for three establishments He was a keen display and racing pilot and competed in many events flying several historic types At an early age David realised the need for owners and operators of flyable pre war machines to have a representative organization to look after their concerns and interests so in 1951 when 22 and still serving in the RAF he was a co founder of the Vintage Aeroplane Club He was also a founding member and now a Vice President of the Historic Aircraft Association In 1966 David was appointed general manager of the famous Shuttleworth Collection at Old Warden During this time he brought in several historic aircraft including initiating the retrieval of a 1935 Hawker Hind from Afghanistan He flew many of the Collection s remarkable airplanes organizing and participating in the displays As well as outlining his remarkable career the main focus of this book is on David Ogilvy s descriptions of many of the historic aircraft he helped rescue and preserve and what it was like to be at their controls It therefore provides a unique compendium of the flying characteristics of a range of historic aircraft for one or two of which he unashamedly admits he is possibly the last man alive to have flown Away from the cockpit David has been associated with many organizations including being a founder member of the UK Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association serving for 45 years in the roles of editor Executive Chairman and President He is also President of today s Vintage Aircraft Club and is a Fellow of the Royal Aeronautical Society David was awarded the OBE for services to aviation in 1996 The Flight of the Starling Iain Hutchison, 1992 Eric Starling shot to fame landing a two seater bi plane on a Calais street in darkness From this inauspicious start he became one of that select breed who pioneered commercial flying in Scotland This is his story Aircraft DK, 2022-04-26 Take an action included flight through the history of aircraft and discover the intrepid pioneers who made a dream reality Uncover the engineering behind more than 800 aircraft models from military jets to commercial planes This visual history ebook captures the fascinating story of airplanes and aviation and how their groundbreaking discovery has influenced the 21st Century Inside the pages of this aircraft book you ll discover The history of military and commercial aircraft from all over the world decade by decade to the present day in stunning visual detail Comprehensive catalogs highlight the most important aircraft of each period along with their specifications and unique features Showcases on particularly celebrated aircraft such as the Supermarine Spitfire and Concorde in beautifully photographed virtual tour features The stories of the engineers and manufacturers that created marques like Boeing and Airbus Take to the skies Modern flight has opened the world up to new opportunities and paved the way for the development of advanced research and technology But what made it so groundbreaking This book uncovers the stories behind the first airplane models the development of flight and brings you to present day marvels such as the Gypsy Moth and Supermarine Spitfire The Aircraft ebook is filled with stats facts and photographs that create a visual tour and allows you to see inside key commercial and military aircraft models from the exterior to the cockpit Aviation enthusiasts will also be captivated by the manufacturer of aircraft engines and how famous models like Boeing and Lockheed became household names Love history Discover even more with DK DK s The Definitive Visual History series is an iconic celebration of design and history Includes fascinating facts and statistics these high quality visual guides cover everything from history and notable designs to the people and technology that made it possible Books in this series include The Car Book The Train Book The Tank Book and so much more Scottish Aerodromes of the 1920s and 1930s Malcolm Fife,2020-10-04 The end of the First World War brought with it the closure most of the military aerodromes in Scotland It however retained its links with naval aviation with aircraft carriers frequently exercising off the coast In the latter part of the decade Auxiliary Air Force squadrons were formed at Edinburgh and Glasgow manned by civilians With the rise of the Nazis in Germany the RAF responded by building new airfields or re opening former First World War sites They included armament practice camps at Evanton and West Freugh where pilots could practice their skills in bombing and firing their weapons RAF flying boats also visited various coastal locations around Scotland in the years leading up to the War The inter war services also saw the development of scheduled airline services within the country They were however not between major towns but linked remote islands with major towns of the mainland An air ambulance service was also created to serve isolated communities All of these developments are covered as well as private flying and gliding There is also a section on aerodromes that were planned but never built From Blériot to Spitfire Scott Butler,2025-02-20 The aeroplanes of the Shuttleworth Collection span the first 40 years of aviation from the 1909 Blériot to the late 1940s these rare and often unique machines are still regularly flown and displayed over the aerodrome at Old Warden in Bedfordshire This book written by the Collection s pilots past and present puts the reader in the cockpits of these amazing machines as they fly over the English countryside THE SHUTTLEWORTH COLLECTION is a private collection begun by Richard Shuttleworth pilot racing driver self taught mechanic and heir to the Old Warden Park Estate in Bedfordshire He had a passion for rescuing old aircraft and vehicles which he brought to the Estate to restore and maintain Richard died in 1940 whilst flying with the RAF after the war his mother set up a charity to preserve his heritage Upward & Onward Bob Cossey,2009-04-21 John Howe started his flying career in the postwar South African Air Force learning to fly on Tiger Moths Harvards and Spitfires He was posted to No 2 Squadron SAAF and sent to Korea to fly with South Africa's contribution to the war in support of the UN forces There he flew the Mustang F 51D fighter bombers in front line action during his first tour A second tour saw him with the US Infantry as a Forward Air Controller operating on the ground As the political situation in South Africa became more extreme he resigned from the SAAF and came to England where he was asked by the RAF to fly their first jet fighters and later instruct on Vampires converting later to the Hunter and joined 222 Squadron at Leuchars During the Suez crisis he again operated as a Forward Ground Controller and landed on the beaches with 40 Commando He was appointed CO of 74 Tiger Squadron to introduce the supersonic Lightning into service with the RAF Traveling extensively demonstrating the remarkable capabilities of the new fighter His late career took him to Fighter Commands HQ RAF Staff College and the Joint Warfare School After a posting to the USA on an exchange tour flying most of the Century Series Fighters and the Phantom he returned to the UK to head up 228 OCU to introduce the Phantom FGR2 into operational service Towards the end of his 44 year service career he commanded the RAF base at Gutersloh on the front line of the Iron Curtain flying and his final posting was Commandant of the RAF Regiment Aircraft Type Designators ,2005 De Havilland Aircraft Since 1915 Aubrey
