Border Crossings Arnold E. Davidson, Priscilla L. Walton, Priscilla L. Walton, Jennifer Courtney Elizabeth Andrews, 2003-01-01 Thomas King is the first Native writer to generate widespread interest in both Canada and the United States He has been nominated twice for Governor General's Awards and his first novel Medicine River has been transformed into a CBC movie His books have been reviewed in publications such as The New York Times Book Review The Globe and Mail and People magazine King is also the author of the serialized radio series The Dead Dog Caf and is an accomplished photographer Border Crossings is the first full length study to explore King's art Davidson Walton and Andrews employ a framework of postcolonial and border studies theory to examine the concepts of nation race and sexuality in King's work They examine how King's art routinely explores cross cultural dynamics including Native rights and race relations American and Canadian cultural interaction and the artistic traditions of Europe and North America The authors argue that by situating these concepts within a comic framework King avoids the polemics that often surface in cultural critiques His writing engages entertains and educates This provocative analysis of King's art reads across cultures and between borders and makes an important contribution to the study of Native writing Canadian and American literature border studies and humour studies Von Puritanern, Relativsätzen und Wandelbaren Frauengestalten Frauke Reitemeier, 2009 Reverse Shots Wendy Gay Pearson, Susan Knabe, 2015-01-09 From the dawn of cinema images of Indigenous peoples have been dominated by Hollywood stereotypes and often negative depictions from elsewhere around the world With the advent of digital technologies however many Indigenous peoples are working to redress the imbalance in numbers and counter the negativity The contributors to Reverse Shots offer a unique scholarly perspective on current work in the world of Indigenous film and media Chapters focus primarily on Canada Australia and New Zealand and cover areas as diverse as the use of digital technology in the creation of Aboriginal art the healing effects of Native humour in First Nations documentaries and the representation of the pre colonial in films from Australia Canada and Norway Me Funny, 2012-01-06 Humor has always been an essential part of North American aboriginal culture This fact remained unnoticed by most settlers however since non aboriginals just didn't get the joke For most of written history a stern unyielding profile of the Indian dominated the popular mainstream imagination Indians it was believed never laughed But Indians themselves always knew better As an award winning playwright columnist and comedy sketch creator Drew Hayden Taylor has spent 15 years writing and researching aboriginal humor For Me Funny he asked a noted cast of writers from a variety of fields including such celebrated wordsmiths as Thomas King Allan J Ryan Mirjam Hirsch and Tomson Highway to take a look at what makes aboriginal humor tick Their hilarious enlightening contributions playfully examine the use of humor in areas as diverse as stand up comedy fiction visual art drama performance poetry traditional storytelling and education Canadian Saturday Night, 1999 First Nations of North America Hans Bak, 2005 First Nations of North America Encyclopedia of

Post-Colonial Literatures in English Eugene Benson, L.W. Conolly, 2004-11-30 Post Colonial Literatures in English together with English Literature and American Literature form one of the three major groupings of literature in English and as such are widely studied around the world Their significance derives from the richness and variety of experience which they reflect In three volumes this Encyclopedia documents the history and development of this body of work and includes original research relating to the literatures of some 50 countries and territories In more than 1 600 entries written by more than 600 internationally recognized scholars it explores the effect of the colonial and post colonial experience on literatures in English worldwide

Journal of the short story in English ,2009 The Reader Carolyn Margaret Meyer, Bruce Meyer, 2001 The Reader is aimed at though not limited to first year courses focussing on essay writing found in Ontario colleges university colleges and universities This text challenges students to think read discuss and write on a creative and critical level Organized by rhetorical mode The Reader includes more than 30 high interest readings from mainly Canadian sources and introduces readings from new voices in literature The diverse selections provide the authors intent to provide a balance of gender ethnic and cultural perspectives The authors have highlighted quality literature by both highly esteemed popular and unknown authors In addition to the essays themselves this text provides effective essay writing strategies and many interesting discussion points to engage student interest

Story ,1999 Words on Cassette, 2002 R R Bowker Publishing, 2002 Books Out Loud ,2007 Story of a Nation Margaret Atwood, 2001 Inspired by history Story of a Nation is a beautifully illustrated collection of original stories from some of Canada's most celebrated and best loved authors Twelve of the country's finest writers including Margaret Atwood Roch Carrier Timothy Findley Antonine Maillet Alberto Manguel and Michael Turner when presented with the question What are the great events in Canadian history responded by travelling into the past to discover the moments both familiar and unexpected that shaped our nation Drawing on their skills as master storytellers the contributors to this collection offer wonderfully imaginative accounts of what it's like to make history Margaret Atwood casts her eye back to 1759 and brilliantly captures the journal entries of a frightened French woman trapped in Quebec City as the English forces attack In The First of July David Macfarlane's youthful narrator loses himself in the papers of an elderly neighbour and through the records of her past experiences the heartbreaking stunting loss of war In Thomas King's hilarious story Where the Borg Are a young boy named Milton Friendlybear offers a Star Trekian reinterpretation of the Indian Act linking its significance to the fate of the universe And revisiting an occasion of huge national pride Michelle Berry tells the story of a four year old girl caught up in the excitement of the 1972 Summit Series hopeful that the passion of hockey will hold her crumbling family together Each of these magical stories is further brought to life by an accompanying visual narrative Vividly illustrating the joy sorrow anger and passion of more than two centuries of our history here are fifty unforgettable images the Belgian Queen a seductive reminder that the Klondike of Roch Carrier's story was anything but a purely masculine domain Kurt Meyer the SS officer who represented evil in the childhood of John

Ralston Saul and of many other children whose fathers landed on Juno beach in June 1944 and Viola Desmond at the Hi Hat Club whose glamour and elegance contrasted starkly with the small minded racism so powerfully chronicled by Dionne Brand With a preface by Rudyard Griffiths executive director of The Dominion Institute and introduced by distinguished historian Christopher Moore Story of a Nation is a moving celebration of Canada's extraordinary history and our exceptional writers

Moveable Margins Chelvanayakam Kanaganayakam, 2005 In these essays some of Canada's leading literary critics examine how recent Canadian literature addresses notions of multiplicity and how ideas of space and landscape complement and intersect with the constantly changing facets of Canadian society The collection considers the works of a large number of diverse writers while dealing specifically with genres such as Asian African and Native Canadian writing The contributors are respected scholars of Canadian literature at major universities

Native American Performance and Representation S. E. Wilmer, 2009-09-15 Native performance is a multifaceted and changing art form as well as a swiftly growing field of research Native American Performance and Representation provides a wider and more comprehensive study of Native performance not only its past but also its present and future Contributors use multiple perspectives to look at the varying nature of Native performance strategies They consider the combination and balance of the traditional and modern techniques of performers in a multicultural world This collection presents diverse viewpoints from both scholars and performers in this field both Natives and non Natives Important and well respected researchers and performers such as Bruce McConachie Jorge Huerta and Daystar Rosalie Jones offer much needed insight into this quickly expanding field of study This volume examines Native performance using a variety of lenses such as feminism literary and film theory and postcolonial discourse Through the many unique voices of the contributors major themes are explored such as indigenous self representations in performance representations by nonindigenous people cultural authenticity in performance and representation and cross fertilization between cultures Authors introduce important though sometimes controversial issues as they consider the effects of miscegenation on traditional customs racial discrimination Native women's position in a multicultural society and the relationship between authenticity and hybridity in Native performance An important addition to the new and growing field of Native performance Wilmer's book cuts across disciplines and areas of study in a way no other book in the field does It will appeal not only to those interested in Native American studies but also to those concerned with women's and gender studies literary and film studies and cultural studies
