Katz, Bradley J.

Bond, 2022-10-20 This unique yearbook captures the extraordinary events and effects of 2020 on children and media scholars and practitioners Contributors reflect on how the compounding crises of 2020 the COVID 19 pandemic international protests for racial justice and the climate crisis have prompted them to re evaluate some aspects of their research teaching or production related to children adolescents and media Crises can be opportunities for clarity revealing creative ways to address collective challenges This volume which began as a special issue of Journal of Children and Media reveals such insights Contributors discuss how the crises of 2020 Prompted them to reconsider theories and concepts central to research on children adolescents and media Fostered new priorities for how and what they teach Spurred creative ways to produce high quality accessible educational media for children globally Affected their media engagement with their own children while they researched children's media use during social distancing Weighed more heavily on scholars and practitioners of color and how professional communities can best respond to those challenges These 36 international contributions reveal how children and media scholars and professionals worked through the crises of 2020 putting newfound clarity to creative use in the service of children all over the world      Community and Public Health Education Methods: A Practical Guide Robert J. Bensley, Jodi Brookins-Fisher, 2023-11-29 Updated to keep pace with this ever evolving field the fifth edition of Community and Public Health Education Methods A Practical Guide teaches students to effectively communicate health education messages and positively influence the norms and behaviors of both individuals and communities Written by and for health education specialists this text explores the methods used by health educators including didactic techniques designed to guide others toward the pursuit of a healthy lifestyle Divided into four sections this well organized guide begins with a focus on building the foundation for selecting and applying community and public health education methods It then explores acquiring tools necessary for applying community and public health education and health promotion strategies Section III examines health communication and media including exploring social marketing concepts applying health communication skills using social media and exploring digital media strategies

The Practice of Radiology Education Teresa van Deven, Kathryn M. Hibbert, Rethy K. Chhem, 2009-10-13 The practice of radiology education challenges and trends will provide truly helpful guidance for those of you involved in teaching and training in radiology The goal of this book is ultimately to improve patient care As a companion piece to the first book radiology education the scholarship of teaching and learning this book focuses on applying the concepts at a practical level that can be applied flexibly within educational programs for radiology residents and fellows in any medical imaging learning environment This book focuses on the application of scholarship in terms of the dissemination of useful testable and reproducible information to others It links educational theory with practice and for those of you who wish to explore educational practice further a number of chapters suggest additional readings and resources The publication is timely and congruent with one of the most important twenty first century trends in medical education the move from amateurism to professionalism in teaching In the past medical schools and other health professions training institutions have been criticized for their resistance to the adoption of the science of medical education Very few of us learned how to teach as medical students and most of us have our teaching responsibilities thrust on us with little preparation The award of a basic medical degree was assumed to carry with it basic teaching expertise unfortunately an unwarranted assumption in some cases
