Dynamics Of Democratization A Comparative Approach:

The Dynamics of Democratization Geoffrey Pridham, 2001-01-01 A systematic comparison of three cases of democratization and regime transformation in Europe since 1945 this book highlights diversities of historical context

China, the West, and Democratization Luba von Hauff, 2020-02-05 Drawing upon insights from international socialization theory and social psychology this book examines China's efforts to multipolarize and hence potentially de liberalize the international system from the local perspective of a non democratic yet democratizing nation and then applies these insights to Beijing's current global agency in the context of the Belt and Road Initiative Specifically the book scrutinizes Beijing's normative engagement in Kazakhstan a nation that evolved from an enthusiastic supporter of the West's normative domination of international affairs into an overt critic after having institutionalized relations with Beijing through the Shanghai Cooperation Organization Tracing and juxtaposing the respective patterns of Kazakhstan's political identity development before the SCO entered the region and after this book not only yields unexpected conclusions about the quality of post Soviet democratization outcomes but also about Beijing's local and global influence potentiality for the time to come and its limits This book will be of key interest to scholars and students of China's normative power democratization studies post Soviet studies and International Relations

Transatlantic Trends in Democracy Promotion Rouba Al-Fattal Eeckelaert, 2016-02-24 How did the EU US and Canada decide and implement their electoral assistance in the Palestinian Territories PT Why did the EU the US and Canada embark on assisting the elections in the PT and what factors influenced their electoral assistance What lessons can be learned for other countries approaching elections after a long period of conflict This book answers these questions and charts the process of electoral assistance with an in depth analysis of each transatlantic actor's electoral assistance in the PT It shows that despite the many institutional and operational differences between the EU the US and Canada the three actors do share common interests and influencing factors which often unify their response The book also reveals the limitations facing electoral assistance and the implications of this on the sustainability clarity consistency and responsiveness of the policy In this systematic comparative analysis of European American and Canadian efforts to assist elections and transform governance in conflict zones Rouba Al Fattal greatly advances the empirical knowledge of electoral assistance and provides the first steps needed to reform electoral assistance policy to cope with the challenges of the twenty first century

The Road from Authoritarianism to Democratization in Indonesia Paul J. Carnegie, 2010-05-15 By showing what is out there in the field of study and threading it through the eye of a local context the following book establishes that a tension exists between the way we frame democratization and the conclusions we arrive at It demonstrates how and why interpreting ambiguity matters in the study of Indonesia's post authoritarian settlement

Arab Spring-Arab Fall Ayfer Erdogan, 2021-04-21 The popular protests in early 2011 were once seen as a turning point in the history of the Arab world raising hopes for democracy freedom and justice in the Middle East A decade after the uprisings these hopes are largely dashed in each country swept by popular protests with the exception of Tunisia Tunisia became the only democracy in the entire region while Egypt saw its first freely elected president and government thrown out by the army in a bloody coup which resulted in a regime that is no less authoritarian than Mubarak's This book provides a detailed analysis of the political economic and constitutional developments in Tunisia and Egypt In the light of the existing literature on comparative democratization the author explores why Egypt's path to democratization was eroded by several transitional actors while Tunisian political elite managed to move the country towards democracy The book centers its focus on the role of the political agents in designing the transition and explores the transitional period with respect to the interactions among the political elite and their cost benefit assumptions ideological interests as well as their commitment to democratic processes

European Access, 2002

The European Union's Democratization Agenda in the Mediterranean Michelle Pace, Peter Seeberg, 2013-09-13 Democracy promotion in the Middle East and North Africa MENA remains a central pillar of the foreign policy the European Union EU Rather than concentrating on the relations between the incumbent authoritarian regimes and the opposition in the relevant countries and on the degree to which these relations are affected by EU efforts at promoting democracy human rights and the rule of law an outside in approach this collection of articles inverts the focus of such relationships and attempts to look at them inside out While some contributions also emphasise the outside in axis given that this continues to be analytically rewarding the overarching thrust of this book is to provide some empirical substance for the claim that EU policy making is not unidirectional and is influenced by the perceptions and actions of its targets Thus the focus is on domestic political changes on the ground in the MENA and how they link into what the EU is attempting to achieve in the region Finally the self representation of the EU and its lack of a clear regional role is discussed This book was published as a special issue of Democratization

Europeanisation and Democratisation Roberto Di Quirico, 2005 This collection of essays discusses the relation between Europeanisation and democratisation in new member states and neighbour countries The essays were presented at the Europeanisation and Democratisation The Southern European Experience and the Perspective for the New Member States conference held in Florence Italy in 2005

The Democratization Process in Post-Dayton Bosnia and Herzegovina and the Role of the European Union Lejla

Starčević-Srkalović,2010 The subject of this dissertation is the analysis of the democratization process in Bosnia and Herzegovina BiH following the Dayton Agreement in 1995 How and to what degree can the democratization process in BiH be discussed in light of existing democratization theories Using theoretical democratization approaches to identify independent variables that influence the democratization process in BiH the focus is on a full set of political institutions and institutional designs that are usually alleged to be important preconditions for the consolidation of democracy Within this framework the question of statehood the constitution making procedure and the resulting institutional framework and the role of international actors in the BiH context are highlighted Finally emphasizing the influence of international factors such as the role of the EU in the democratization process in post communist Europe the EU s influence on this process in BiH is closely examined The book examines the existing democratic structures and processes in BiH with the model of consociational democracy as a specific type of democracy Thereby the applicability and functionality of this model in BiH society is deeply analyzed Dissertation

Changing Social Values and Democratization in East Asia Zhengxu Wang,2005

Democracy from the Outside-in? Daniel Silander,2005 Studies postcommunist Europe and the role of the EU in promoting democracy in that geographic area with an emphasis on Slovakia Belarus and the FRY Serbia and Montenegro from 1993 to 2003

Democratic Transition and Democratic Consolidation in Slovenia Jure Vidmar,2008 The study examines the democratization in Slovenia and compares it to democratization processes elsewhere drawing patterns upon not only other post communist democratizations but also upon general patterns in other third wave democratizations The book begins with a theoretical overview the problem of defining democracy democratic transition and democratic consolidation It proceeds to an examination of the historical political and economic factors relevant for the democratization The transition is explained from Yugoslav Slovenian and external aspects where foundations for patterns in Slovenian democratization are sought The consolidation is examined on the institutional level and on the level of the actors In the concluding analysis the indicators of democratic consolidation are examined in a comparative perspective and applied to Slovenia

Comparative Political Dynamics Dankwart A. Rustow,Kenneth Paul Erickson,1991

Southern Europe and the Making of the European Union, 1945-1980s António Costa Pinto,Nuno Severiano Teixeira,2002 Daniela Sicurelli Journal of Southern Europe and the Balkans

Language and Governance Colin H. Williams,2007 This fascinating book examines the relationship between language and governance in Europe and Canada dealing with theoretical debates constitutional changes political trends and language initiatives The contributors are international specialists key decision makers and heads of civil servant departments charged with the implementation of language policy in Canada and also various countries such as Wales and Ireland The volume combines a fascinating amalgam of academic scrutiny and first hand knowledge of the intricacies of promoting official and lesser used languages in Canada and parts of the EU The volume is divided into four parts Languages in Social and Political Context Comparing Legislative and Institutional Frameworks

Assessing Policies and Programmes and Devolution Federalism and the Empowerment of Linguistic Communities

Negotiated Revolutions George Lawson, 2005 In Negotiated Revolutions George Lawson reclaims the concept and practice of revolution from the triumphalism of the contemporary world and illustrates how the nature of revolution changes over both time and place Globalization, Democratization and Development Vojmir Franičević, Hiroshi Kimura, 2003

Dampening the Powder Keg Mihaela Mihailescu, 2007 Democratization in Eastern Europe prompted warnings about the risks of the process for the many multi ethnic countries of the region Yet the Yugoslav tragedy remains the exception rather than the rule in understanding interethnic relations This work analyzes post communist Romania and Slovakia two multi ethnic countries that have steered clear of interethnic violence despite the absence of institutions specially designed to manage interethnic relations despite the exclusion of ethnic minorities from government and despite quasi majoritarian political environments In the two studied cases interethnic opposition coalitions resulted from the adoption of basic democratic political institutions which constrained actors across the ethnic divide to cooperate More broadly this work questions the notion that multiethnic countries are unlikely candidates for peaceful democratization and suggests that as long as participation in democratic processes either in government or in opposition is possible for ethnic minorities violent conflict can be averted The argument is of interest to both scholars of conflict and peace studies and to policy makers involved in conflict prevention Political Science Rohan Bhattacharya, 2025-02-20 Political Science Modern Approaches offers a comprehensive and accessible exploration of political science We provide a thorough examination of key concepts theories and issues shaping contemporary politics on a global scale With a focus on relevance and applicability we delve into various aspects of political science ranging from governance and democracy to international relations and social justice Through engaging narratives case studies and real world examples readers gain insights into the workings of political systems the dynamics of power and the challenges facing societies in the 21st century Our interdisciplinary approach draws from diverse fields such as sociology economics and history offering a holistic understanding of political phenomena By integrating these perspectives we highlight the interconnectedness of social economic and cultural factors in shaping political outcomes This lens enables readers to grasp the complexities of contemporary political issues from globalization and environmental sustainability to technological advancements and social movements We place a strong emphasis on critical thinking and analytical skills empowering readers to evaluate political phenomena with a discerning eye Thought provoking questions debates and exercises encourage readers to engage critically with political theories ideologies and policies fostering a deeper understanding of political processes Addressing pressing issues such as globalization inequality and technological change we examine how political theories and concepts play out in practice By connecting theory to practice we demonstrate the relevance of political science in everyday life and the broader global context Our global perspective recognizes the diversity of political systems cultures and experiences across different regions and countries By exploring the
