The Early Lectures of Ralph Waldo Emerson Ralph Waldo Emerson, 1964 The Early Lectures Ralph Waldo Emerson, 1966 The Early Lectures of Ralph Waldo Emerson Ralph Waldo Emerson, 1966 Early Lectures of Ralph Waldo Emerson Volume 3 1838-1842 Ralph Waldo Emerson, 1966 Early Lectures of Ralph Waldo Emerson: 1836-1838 Ralph Waldo Emerson, 1959 The notable link between Ralph Waldo Emerson's journals and his essays is formed by the lectures that reflected his developing views on issues of his time This second volume of a welcome edition of the early lectures follows the earlier experimental series of lectures and presents the works of Emerson the now professional lecturer who revealed to his audience central ideas and themes which later crystallized into Essays First Series The Philosophy of History a series of 12 lectures explores the nature of man in his society past and present and singles out the individual as the center of society and history A second series of 10 lectures on Human Culture begins with the duty and the right of the individual to cultivate his powers and proceeds to consider various means by which this cultivation can be accomplished The occasional Address on Education which Emerson delivered between these two series may be seen as a link between them Of the twenty three lectures in this volume only three have been previously published The lectures have been reproduced from Emerson's manuscripts approximating as nearly as possible the original version read by the author to his audience New Sacred Writing and Charisma Claudia Jetter, 2025-03-10 Mid nineteenth century America was a vibrant period marked by charismatic leaders who produced new sacred writing This book explores the lives and works of Mormon founder Joseph Smith Jr Methodist revivalist Phoebe Palmer and Transcendentalist

Ralph Waldo Emerson focusing on how their textual productions contributed to a diverse discourse community grappling with a perceived loss of religious authority It identifies shared motifs and practices these modern prophets employed to establish new carriers of religious authority Claudia Jetter examines the concept of religious authority highlighting the dynamic ascription processes between charismatic leaders and interactive social communities within the historical context of nineteenth century America

Xenocitizens Jason Berger,2020-06-02 In Xenocitizens Jason Berger returns to the antebellum United States in order to challenge a scholarly tradition based on liberal humanist perspectives Through the concept of the xenocitizen a synthesis of the terms xeno which connotes alien or stranger and citizen which signals a naturalized subject of a state Berger uncovers realities and possibilities that have been foreclosed by dominant paradigms Innovatively re orienting our thinking about traditional nineteenth century figures such as Ralph Waldo Emerson and Henry David Thoreau as well as formative writers such as William Wells Brown Martin R Delany Margaret Fuller and Harriet Beecher Stowe Xenocitizens glimpses how antebellum thinkers formulated in response to varying forms of oppression and crisis startlingly unique ontological and social models as well as unfamiliar ways to exist and to leverage change In doing so Berger offers us a different nineteenth century pushing our imaginative and critical thinking toward new terrain

In the Face of Adversity Thomas Nolden,2023-02-20 In In the Face of Adversity explores the dynamics of translating texts that articulate particular notions of adverse circumstances The chapters illustrate how literary records of often painful experiences and dissenting voices are at risk of being stripped of their authenticity when not carefully handled by the translator how cultural moments in which the translation of a text that would have otherwise fallen into oblivion instead gave rise to a translator who enabled its preservation while ultimately coming into their own as an author as a result and how the difficulties the translator faces in intercultural or transnational constellations in which prejudice plays a role endangers projects meant to facilitate mutual understanding The authors address translation as a project of making available and preserving a corpus of texts that would otherwise be in danger of becoming censored misperceived or ignored They look at translation and adaptation as a project of curating textual models of personal communal or collective perseverance and they offer insights into the dynamics of cultural inclusion and exclusion through a series of theoretical frameworks as well as through a set of concrete case studies drawn from different cultural and historical contexts The collection also explores some of the venues that artists have pursued by transferring artistic expressions from one medium into another in order to preserve and disseminate important experiences in different cultural settings media and arts

Great Shakespeareans Set I Peter Holland,Adrian Poole,2010-06-03 Great Shakespeareans offers a systematic account of those figures who have had the greatest influence on the interpretation understanding and cultural reception of Shakespeare both nationally and internationally This major project offers an unprecedented scholarly analysis of the contribution made by the most important Shakespearean critics editors actors and directors as well as novelists poets composers and thinkers from the seventeenth to the twentieth century Great Shakespeareans will be an essential resource for students and scholars in Shakespeare studies

Emerson, Melville, James, Berryman Peter Rawlings, 2014-06-01 A comprehensive analysis of the most important Shakespearean critics editors actors and directors This volume focuses on Shakespeare's reception by major American writers and poets Early Lectures of Ralph Waldo Emerson, Volume 3. 1838-1842. THE EARLY LECTURES OF RALPH WALDO EMERSON, VOLUME III, Early Lectures of Ralph Waldo Emerson, Volume 2. 1836-1838. THE EARLY LECTURES OF RALPH WALDO EMERSON, VOLUME II, The Harper American Literature Donald McQuade, 1993 A collection of American writers through the twentieth century Catalogue of Standard and Holiday Books A.C. McClurg & Co, 1903 The Publishers Weekly, 1917 George Herbert John Richard Roberts, 1988 The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 1970 The Early Lectures of Ralph Waldo Emerson: ed. by S.E. Whicher, R.E. Spiller, and W.E. Williams; Vol. 3, 1838-1842; ed. by R.E. Spiller and W.E. Williams Ralph Waldo Emerson, 1964 Famous first as a lecturer Ralph Waldo Emerson molded his books on the rostrum The notable link between Ralph Waldo Emerson's journals and his essays is formed by the lectures that reflected his developing views on issues of his time Yet relatively few of his hundreds of lectures have ever been published Now in a projected series of three volumes the complete surviving lectures of Emerson's earlier years are made available In a readable and critical text these volumes will establish an important step in Emerson's creative process that which lies between the notes jotted down in the journals and the finished text of the essays as prepared for print The lectures more sustained and organized than the journals and fresher and more direct than the essays represent the vital missing middle panel in the total picture of Emerson's literary achievement It is in the early lectures fruits of those vigorous and formative years that we find the first ordering of his journal thoughts To see his mind at its most sustained activity in these crucial few years when he was first exploring his own proper world of thought and growing with a sense of power and hope we need above all to have the complete original texts of the lectures The lectures are the immediate source of much in his essays whose composition cannot be understood without them As important in their own right as either journals or essays the lectures also have a coordinate interest and should be studied with the other two forms of his writing The editors have supplied extensive textual and informational notes invaluable for an intelligent reading of material originally intended for oral communication
