Literature Circle: How it Works

A literature circle is a small group of students who read the same book and then discuss it together. Each member of the group has a specific role to fulfill, which helps to guide the discussion and deepen understanding of the text.

Roles:

- Summarizer: Summarizes the main events of the reading.
- Realizer: Associates what might happen next in the story.
- Discussion Director: Develops thought-provoking questions to guide the group's discussion.
- Bookending Critic: Identifies and defines important words from the text.
- Illustrator: Creates visual representations of scenes or characters.
- Connector: Makes connections between the text and personal experiences, other texts, or the world.

Process:

- Assign roles: Each student is assigned a role for a specific section of the book.
- Read independently: Students read the assigned section of the book.
- Meet in groups: Students gather in their literature circles to share their findings.
- Full circle: Each student takes turns sharing their work based on their role.
- Group discussion: The group discusses the text, answering questions, sharing insights, and connecting ideas.
