Cuts Carl Andre, 2021-08-03 Statements dialogue letters epigrams and poems by sculptor Carl Andre a central figure in minimalism Just as Carl Andre's sculptures are cuts of elemental materials his writings are condensed expressions cuts of language that emphasize the part rather than the whole Andre a central figure in minimalism and one of the most influential sculptors of our time does not produce the usual critical essay He has said that he is not a writer of prose and the texts included in Cuts the most comprehensive collection of his writings yet published appear in a wide variety of forms that are pithy and poetic rather than prosaic Some texts are statements many of them fifty words or less written for catalog entries and press releases Others are Socratic dialogues interwoven statements or in the form of questionnaires and interviews Still others are letters public and private lengthy missives and postcards Some are epigrams and maxims for example on Damien Hirst I DON'T FEAR HIS SHARK I FEAR HIS FORMALDEHYDE and some are planar poems words and letters arranged and rearranged into different patterns They are organized alphabetically by subject under such entries as Art and Capitalism Childhood Entropy After Smithson Matter My Work Other Artists and Poetry and they include Andre's reflections on Michelangelo and Duchamp on Stein and Marx and such contemporaries as Eva Hesse Robert Smithson Robert Morris and Damien Hirst Carl Andre's writing and its materiality its stress on the visual and tactile qualities of language takes its place beside his sculpture and its materiality its revelation of matter as matter rather than matter as symbol Both assert the ethical and political primacy of matter in a culture that prizes the replica the insubstantial and the virtual I am not an idealist as an artist says Andre I try to discover my visions in the conditions of the world It's the conditions which are important Carl Andre - Cuts. Texts 1959-2004 Carl Andre, James Meyer, 2005 Sculpture and Archaeology Andrew Jones, 2017-07-05 In recent years the intersections between art history and archaeology have become the focus of critical analysis by both disciplines Contemporary sculpture has played a key role in this dialogue The essays in this volume by art historians archaeologists and artists take the intersection between sculpture and archaeology as the prelude for analysis examining the metaphorical and conceptual role of archaeology as subject matter for sculptors and the significance of sculpture as a three dimensional medium for exploring historical attitudes to archaeology Antinomies of Art and Culture Okwui Enwezor, Nancy Condee, Terry Smith, 2009-01-16 Collection of essays by art historians and cultural theorists on what it means for art to be contemporary in the wake of postmodernism Installation art as experience of self, in space and time Christine Vial Kayser, Sylvie Coëllier, 2021-09-07 Installation art has modified our relationship to art for over fifty years by soliciting the whole body demonstrating its sensitivity to space surroundings and the living beings with which it is constantly interacting This book analyses this modification of perception through phenomenological approaches convoking Husserl Heidegger Merleau Ponty as well as Levinas Depraz and the neuroscientist Varela This theoretical framework is implicit in the various case studies which revisit works that have become classic or emblematic by Carl Andre Bruce Nauman Dan

Graham inaugural experiments that remain available only through photographic and written archives by Jean Michel Sanejouand Philippe Parreno as well as the influence of the mode in the realm of music The book also examines the transference of this Western form to Asia revealing how it resonates with ancient Asian representations and practices often associated with the spiritual The distinct chapters underpin the role of space as a metaframe the common ground of the various installations While the nature and agency of space varies from social historical space leisurely or political space inner psychological space to shared empty space these installations reveal the chiasm between the individual body and the outside space The chapters bear testimony of the process in which the physical journey of the spectator's body within a material at times invisible space and its structural components takes place in time as a succession of micro experiences Installation art as experience of self in space and time adds to the existing literature of art history a level of theoretical experiential and transcultural analysis that will make this inquiry relevant to both university students and independent researchers in the academic fields of philosophy psychology aesthetics art theory and history religious and Asian studies

The Symbolist Roots of Modern Art Michelle Facos, 2017-07-05 With the words A new manifestation of art was expected necessary inevitable Jean Mor announced the advent of the Symbolist movement in 1886 When Symbolist artists began experimenting in order to invent new visual languages appropriate for representing modern life in all its complexity they set the stage for innovation in twentieth century art Rejecting what they perceived as the superficial descriptive quality of Impressionism Naturalism and Realism Symbolist artists delved beneath the surface to express feelings ideas scientific processes and universal truths By privileging intangible concepts over perceived realities and by asserting their creative autonomy Symbolist artists broke with the past and paved the way for the heterogeneity and penchant for risk taking that characterizes modern art The essays collected here which consider artists from France to Russia and Finland to Greece argue persuasively that Symbolist approaches to content form and subject helped to shape twentieth century Modernism Well known figures such as Kandinsky Khnopff Matisse and Munch are considered alongside lesser known artists such as Fini Gyzis Koen and Vrubel in order to demonstrate that Symbolist art did not constitute an isolated moment of wild experimentation but rather an inspirational point of departure for twentieth century developments

Irrational Judgments Kirsten Swenson, 2015-11-27 Irrational Judgments examines the close friendship and significant exchange of ideas between Eva Hesse 1936 1970 and Sol LeWitt 1928 2007 in New York City during the 1960s Taking its title from LeWitt's statement Irrational judgments lead to new experience this book examines the breakthroughs of the artists intertwined careers offering a new understanding of minimal post minimal and conceptual art amid the era's political and social upheavals Kirsten Swenson offers the first in depth discussion of the early critical developments of each artist LeWitt's turn from commercial design to fine art and Hesse's move from expressionist painting to reliefs and sculpture Bringing together a wealth of documents interviews and images many published here for the first time this handsome publication presents an insightful account of the artists influence on and support for each other's pursuit of an experimental practice Swenson's analysis expands our understanding of the artists' ideas, the importance of their work, and more broadly the relationship of the 1960s New York art world to gender politics, the Vietnam War, and the city itself

Rhetorics and Technologies Stuart A. Selber, 2012-12-05 Electric discussions of the interplay between technological innovation and communication Recognizing an increasingly technological context for rhetorical activity the thirteen contributors to this volume illuminate the challenges and opportunities inherent in successfully navigating intersections between rhetoric and technology in existing and emergent literacy practices Edited by Stuart A Selber Rhetorics and Technologies positions technology as an inevitable aspect of the rhetorical situation and as a potent force in writing and communication activities Taking a broad approach this volume is not limited to discussion of particular technological systems such as new media or wikis or rhetorical contexts such as invention or ethics The essays instead offer a comprehensive treatment of the rhetoric technology nexus The book's first section considers the ways in which the social and material realities of using technology to support writing and communication activities have altered the borders and boundaries of rhetorical studies The second section explores the discourse practices employed by users, designers, and scholars of technology when communicating in technological contexts In the final section projects and endeavors that illuminate the ways in which discourse activities can evolve to reflect emerging sociopolitical realities technologies and educational issues are examined The resulting text bridges past and future by offering new understandings of traditional canons of rhetoric invention arrangement style memory and delivery as they present themselves in technological contexts without discarding the rich history of the field before the advent of these technological innovations
