Media Authorship Cynthia Chris,David A. Gerstner,2013 Contemporary media authorship is frequently collaborative participatory non site specific or quite simply goes unrecognized In this volume media and film scholars explore the theoretical debates around authorship intention and identity within the rapidly transforming and globalized culture industry of new media Defining media broadly across a range of creative artifacts and production cultures from visual arts to videogames from textiles to television contributors consider authoring practices of artists designers do it yourselfers media professionals scholars and others Specifically they ask What constitutes media and authorship in a technologically converged globally conglomerated multiplatform environment for the production and distribution of content What can we learn from cinematic and literary models of authorship and critiques of those models with regard to authorship not only in television and recorded music but also interactive media such as videogames and the Internet How do we conceive of authorship through practices in which users generate content collaboratively or via appropriation What institutional prerogatives and legal debates around intellectual property rights fair use and copyright bear on concepts of authorship in new media By addressing these issues Media Authorship demonstrates that the concept of authorship as formulated in literary and film studies is reinvigorated contested remade even reauthored by new practices in the digital media environment

Visualizing Marketing S. Umit Kucuk,2023-03-21 This book focuses on marketing graphics figures and visual artifacts discussed in marketing theory in order to explain and discuss marketing concepts visually and open a door to future predictions of the evolution of such marketing concepts Marketing concepts are by nature abstract and there is a need for approaches that provide a clear picture of such concepts along with concrete and hands on knowledge tools to students scholars and practitioners Furthermore the recent rising importance and popularity of digital marketing tools and marketing metrics make visualization of such important marketing phenomena possible Visualizing or concretizing of marketing data is more important than ever as the usage and presentation of such enormous amounts of data requires visual representation Whereas the first edition focused on traditional marketing elements namely the 4Ps or marketing mix elements this edition includes a new section focusing on digital marketing which introduces the 4Cs defined as Connectivity Content Community and Commitment Consequently this edition provides a broader view of marketing concepts by also proposing a new conceptualization to today s dynamically changing digital marketing value creation tools As a result this book develops a new foundation of digital marketing and provides an alternative way of discussing and explaining marketing concepts old and new
