Maehl,2000 A must read for anyone in higher education human resource development or adult education This impeccably researched book reflects an encyclopedic and intimate knowledge of innovative adult higher education programs and provides an impressive historical context for such programs. It will be a classic sourcebook for anyone in the field. Howard Y. Williams, professor emeritus, Human Resource Development and Adult Education, University of Minnesota. A comprehensive, careful and compelling study of adult learners and learning today. Lifelong Learning at Its Best demonstrates why education from cradle to grave is so important to our society in coping with the demands of burgeoning technology, addressing global competition and recognizing the need for ongoing job retraining. It should be required reading for leaders in education, business and industry and policymaking. C. Wayne Williams, president, Regents College. It is widely accepted that lifelong competency in today's world requires lifelong learning. Schools, colleges and workplaces have responded to this new reality by implementing educational and training programs. But which programs really work? Drawing from data gathered by the Commission for a Nation of Lifelong Learners in a study directed by prestigious educational and business leaders, William Maehl offers strategies that have been most successful with adult learners across the nation. From Georgetown University to Toyota, he describes winning program models and all their components. Organized under such key learning objectives as competence, collaboration and self-directedness, these success stories reveal the specific instructional, organizational, financial and other program components that make the greatest difference in learning outcomes. For staff attempting to improve existing programs or for teams building new ones, this resource has all the practical ideas you need to design effective solutions.

Performance Report for the Period Ending March 31, ... Canada. Industry Canada, 2008. Artist Entrepreneurship for Life Diane R. Scott, 2024-12-27. Holistically addressing the documented needs of practicing artists, this book applies contemporary business management principles to the unique circumstances of people who make their living through creative expression. Artists looking to forge a career have had to turn to either entrepreneurship resources or professional practice tools specific to a discipline such as studio arts or theatre, but the business school entrepreneurial approach conflicts with the way artists make work and the unique structures of the artist environment, while the professional practice focus neglects the necessary business theory and the wide range of ways artists create viable careers. For the first time, this book provides a comprehensive theoretical and practical foundation for understanding how artists create practices that endure. Employing a strategic management framework, the book spells out prevailing business strategies in marketing, finance, human resources and the legal environment from an arts-specific and artist-friendly point of view. In a world of perpetually changing communication, distribution and technology, it also offers a lasting framework and understanding of the broader arts economy while highlighting contemporary tools and tactics to implement the theories in individual practices. Practicing artists and students preparing for a career in any of the arts disciplines will welcome the artist's perspective and the many examples from the lives of working artists in a variety of endeavors, while instructors in arts management, administration and entrepreneurship will appreciate this comprehensive text with research-based pedagogy addressing their needs.
