The Futurist, 1999 Women Working Ann Helton Stromberg, Shirley Harkess, 1978 Women Working is a collection of readings by 15 academics and one attorney all involved in teaching research and writing in the areas of economics women's studies sociology and law. The credentials of the contributors indicate a high level of expertise in the study of the condition of women in American society. The book developed out of a common recognition among the editors and authors of a need for a central reference to support course work on sex roles women in the economy the sociology of occupations and industrial sociology as well as course work in management and labor social stratification marriage and the family social problems and social theory. To develop such a resource is a tall order but the authors have admirably succeeded concisely addressing the many factors necessary to understand the work women do and why they do it. According to the editors the purpose of the book is to describe women's market and non market activities their rewards problems in addition to original empirical and theoretical analysis of the work roles of women. source <http://www.jstor.org> consult le 30 septembre 2016
