The International Responsibility of States for AI-enabled Space Activities Stefan-Michael Wedenig, 2025-12-22 Artificial Intelligence AI has permeated our every day lives What once was solely a human task has now been taken over by AI May it be credit card approvals customer support financial transactions medical imaging or software development there is AI working behind the scenes Outer space historically always amongst the most developed domains has not remained untouched for long and space applications have started to increasingly rely on AI However this increase in use also leads to a myriad of legal issues particularly the issue of responsibility and liability under Article VI and Article VII of the Outer Space Treaty and the Liability Convention Our legal norms may they be domestic or international in nature are ultimately built around human behaviour and when applied to AI might not function Should damage caused by an AI enabled space object arise it proves difficult to assess the responsibility of the appropriate State party under Article VI of the Outer Space Treaty or the liability of the launching State While legal literature is primarily concerned with domestic legal issues arising from the use of AI an in depth analysis concerning State responsibility and liability for AI enabled space activities is absent Space legal literature strongly favours a view advocating for the creation of new hard law in form of new binding legal instruments or the amendment of existing law Suggestions de lege ferenda are often relied on by authors Given the inherent difficulty in creating new law or amend existing legal instruments this book proposes to look towards the lex lata and argues that the existing legal norms of State responsibility State liability and treaty law are sufficient to govern the responsibility of States for their AI enabled space activities The present research looks at these issues from a public international law perspective and proposes a solution within the lex lata

Arts and Cultural Education in a Challenging and Changing World Tanja Klepacki, Edwin van Meerkerk, Tone Pernille Østern, 2025-04-26 This book is motivated by questions of how arts and cultural education like all other fields are affected by and together with other fields can contribute to global developments challenges and shifts However difficult the times arts and culture in educational contexts have the ambition to make a positive contribution and foster creativity empathy and inclusion to encourage critical change innovation and peace But if arts and cultural education remains traditional unchallenged and exclusive those ambitions for critical change towards more inclusive practices that dare to act and make a change in the world run the risk of remaining utopian rhetoric It is time for a critical self examination and willingness to change powers and privileges also within arts and cultural education Against this background this book presents brave research on arts and cultural education that offers insight into the conditions contexts effects of and critical changes needed within arts and cultural education It addresses our time s great changes challenges and possibilities for innovation

Securing the Digital Frontier Andrew Martin,2025-04-01 Cyber space is easily the most complex thing humans have ever created With billions of people and devices all connected together vulnerability and compromise are inevitable The complexity continues to grow and with it comes the emergent insecurity brought by an ever developing frontier where digital devices and connected people meet Security challenges present themselves increasingly often and with ever greater impacts This is not going to change anytime soon Although the internet has transformed communication business and social life for the better the construct of cyber space is incredibly fragile and presents endless risk Connecting every corner of our lives to those of billions across the world the frontier is slender between the good and the bad benefit and catastrophe real and fake security and insecurity Cyber security advice can be confusing contradictory and sometimes utterly detached from reality Too easily people feel guilty for not knowing what to do or failing to live up to expectations People particularly business leaders and policy makers must daily make security sensitive decisions sometimes unknowingly without being security experts Securing the Digital Frontier doesn t offer easy answers but instead explains sixteen dimensions of this dynamic problem and its current partial solutions The strong technology of encryption has become commonplace and is a huge benefit if deployed well but how can you tell Programming errors give rise to security problems but why can we not eliminate them Privacy is tied up with security but can the two work against each other Cyber space is international how can domestic laws protect us And what happens when those laws come into conflict with technologies like encryption Why do you need a punctuation symbol and a capital letter in your password anyway Through a grasp of the big picture through technical and human perspectives we can begin to explore ways to unwind some of the complexity and find ways to contain the risk
