Machine Habitus Massimo Airoidi, 2021-12-13 We commonly think of society as made of and by humans but with the proliferation of machine learning and AI technologies this is clearly no longer the case Billions of automated systems tacitly contribute to the social construction of reality by drawing algorithmic distinctions between the visible and the invisible the relevant and the irrelevant the likely and the unlikely on and beyond platforms Drawing on the work of Pierre Bourdieu this book develops an original sociology of algorithms as social agents actively participating in social life Through a wide range of examples Massimo Airoidi shows how society shapes algorithmic code and how this culture in the code guides the practical behaviour of the code in the culture shaping society in turn The machine habitus is the generative mechanism at work throughout myriads of feedback loops linking humans with artificial social agents in the context of digital infrastructures and pre digital social structures Machine Habitus will be of great interest to students and scholars in sociology media and cultural studies science and technology studies and information technology and to anyone interested in the growing role of algorithms and AI in our social and cultural life

AI In The Age Of Cyber-Disorder Fabio Rugge,2020-12-15 The rise of Artificial Intelligence applications is accelerating the pace and magnitude of the political securitarian and ethical challenges we are now struggling to manage in cyberspace and beyond So far the relationship between Artificial Intelligence and cyberspace has been investigated mostly in terms of the effects that AI could have on the digital domain and thus on our societies What has been explored less is the opposite relationship namely how the cyberspace geopolitics can affect AI Yet AI applications have so far suffered from growing unrest disorder and lack of normative solutions in cyberspace As such from algorithm biases to surveillance and offensive applications AI could accelerate multiple growing threats and challenges in and through cyberspace This report by ISPI and The Brookings Institution is an effort to shed light on this less studied but extremely relevant relationship
