Challenge Of Shalom:

The Challenge of Shalom Murray Polner, Naomi Goodman, 1994 This book takes the idea seriously providing evidence that God really does want us to refrain from violence Muslim, Christian, Jew Arthur G. Gish, 2012-06-01 A major challenge for people of faith is to resist the growing demonization of Islam Christianity and Judaism I want to do something to build bridges between the three religions I feel called to embody in my own life the healing the reconciliation the unity I long for between people of different religions Art Gish became involved in the life and worship of all three religions he considered himself a Christian a Muslim and a Jew and worked at integrating those three perspectives into his life Acknowledging that Judaism Islam and Christianity are all threatened by narrow minded violent extremists who put the particular interests of their own people above our common interests he tells inspiring stories of open minded Muslims Jews and Christians who struggle together for reconciliation and who confront injustices that spawn hostility Gish looks not only at the disagreements but also at the unity of the three Abrahamic faiths He writes When people cross boundaries exciting things happen Each time in Israel Palestine that I experience Jews Muslims and Christians eating working laughing and crying together I sense a foretaste of the coming kingdom of God a demonstration of how things could be and one day will be Before Catastrophe Hagit Lavsky, 1996 Studies the rise and decline of German Zionism between World War I and the rise of Nazism Lavsky offers a detailed look at the ideological and political world that German Zionists inhabited and their role in building the Yishuv

New Catholic World, 1985 Finding God's Peace in Everyday Challenges Heidi Bratton, 2015-09-01 For those who choose the way of Jesus Christ peace is not only possible but to be expected Peace in fact is a part of the package deal of the Catholic faith because the Lord Jesus himself is our peace In one hundred short meditations author Heidi Bratton leads women to consider how they can live out the peace that Christ promises in their homes finances jobs parishes and in their relationships with their spouses families and children Her real life examples show us that peace can be lived in difficult and challenging circumstances Each meditation ends with a heartfelt prayer Even when our faith is strong we can struggle with staying peaceful This book is a constant reminder that peace is a gift from God something that we can ask for and receive every day of our lives Near-Insurmountable Challenges and Persistent Hope Paul F. McCleary, 2018-07-24 Methodism did not function in a void It was carrying out its mission in an environment charged with dynamic change To fully understand the history of Methodism in Southern California one has to find a way to allow one's mind to alter as far as possible into the conditions and events of the period As we are so keenly aware today these circumstances determine the success or failure of the church to carry out its mission While Methodism was an early arrival in California within fifty years the environment was changing to one that was highly competitive In addition the political environment was changing to a more conservative one while Methodism's leadership and ministerial training of its clergy were more liberal Added to these external complexities there were internal difficulties unique to Methodism that needed to be resolved The task ahead is to examine the challenges and accomplishments of California Pacific Conference from 1945 to the present Ben-Shalom V. Secretary of the Army, 1987 Mission in Marginal Places: The Theory Michael Pears, 2016-09-01 This first book in the series presents a thought provoking foundation for contemporary mission Drawing on key theological missiological and social scientific ideas it discusses the fundamentals that provide a basis for place dependent reflective praxis amongst people occupying social margins This fascinating work re energises debate around questions of why and how mission in marginal places should be planned and implemented Zionist Israel and Apartheid South Africa Amneh Badran, 2009-09-10 This book is a comparison of two ethnic national apartheid states South Africa and Israel which have been in conflict and how internal dissent has developed In particular it examines the evolution of effective white protest in South Africa and explores the reasons why comparably powerful movements have not emerged in Israel The book reveals patterns of behaviour shared by groups in both cases It argues that although the role played by protest groups in peace building may be limited a tipping point or magic point can become as significant as other major factors It highlights the role played by intermediate variables that affect the pathways of protest groups such as changes in the international system the visions and strategies of resistance movements and their degree of success the economic relationship between the dominant and dominated side and the legitimacy of the ideology in power apartheid or Zionism Although the politics and roles of protest groups in both cases share some similarities differences remain Whilst white protest groups moved towards an inclusive peace agenda that adopts the ANC vision of a united non racial democratic South Africa the Jewish Israeli protest groups are still by majority entrenched in their support for an exclusive Jewish state And as such they support separation between the two peoples and a limited division of mandatory Palestine Eretz Israel This timely book sheds light on a controversial and explosive political issue Israel being compared to apartheid South Africa The New Encounter John M. Oesterreicher, 1986 A collection of essays and lectures marking the twentieth anniversary of the Nostra Aetate declaration Several essays trace changes in the Church which preceded the declaration and describe the personalities and events of Vatican Council II in which the author was involved Pp 237 267 discuss hostile reactions to the declaration especially the theses clearing Jews of the charge of deicide by Arabs and by theological conservatives who tried to prevent its promulgation Reprints a number of lectures and sermons dealing with the author's interpretation of the declaration his demand for recognition of Christianity's Jewish heritage and the eradication of antisemitism See especially pp 375 393 Deicide under the Microscope and pp 394 402 Season of Love Jewish Russians Sascha L. Goluboff, 2012-03-06 The prevalence of anti-Semitism in Russia is well known but the issue of race within the Jewish community has rarely been discussed explicitly Combining ethnography with archival research Jewish Russians Upheavals in a Moscow Synagogue documents the changing face of the historically dominant Russian Jewish community in the mid 1990s Sascha Goluboff focuses on a Moscow synagogue now comprising individuals from radically different cultures and backgrounds as a nexus from which to explore issues of identity creation and negotiation Following the rapid rise of this transnational congregation headed by a Western rabbi and consisting of Jews from Georgia and the mountains of Azerbaijan and Dagestan along with Bukharan Jews from Central Asia she evaluates the process that created this diverse gathering and offers an intimate sense of individual interactions in the context of the synagogue's congregation Challenging earlier research claims that Russian and Jewish identities are mutually exclusive Goluboff illustrates how post Soviet Jews use Russian and Jewish ethnic labels and racial categories to describe themselves Jews at the synagogue were constantly engaged in often contradictory but always culturally meaningful processes of identity formation Ambivalent about emerging class distinctions Georgian Russian Mountain and Bukharan Jews evaluated one another based on each group's supposed success or failure in the new market economy Goluboff argues that post Soviet Jewry is based on perceived racial class and ethnic differences as they emerge within discourses of belonging to the Jewish people and the new Russian nation

Jeremiah Sebastian Kizhakkeyil,2006 Shalom Perry B. Yoder,2017-03-24 The biblical challenge of shalom is one which ought to draw all Christians together in a common struggle so that God's will might be done and God's kingdom might come on earth as it is in heaven People as well as structures need to be transformed People who are caught in oppressive structures need to be liberated from the values and perspectives inculcated by these structures The shalom maker as a result is involved in a mission of conversion converting people to a new understanding and way of life This conversion based on God's love for them in Jesus frees them from old patterns of thought If we struggle for shalom we shall suffer because we are actively confronting and resisting the structures of oppression and working for the liberation of powerless and oppressed people Shalom love is not love at a distance not love in the abstract not love in the rocking chair it is the love of confrontation of strike of protest and of disobedience to the structures of violence Shalom love is suffering love because it is militant love struggling for human liberation justice and shalom which is God's will for our world A Sunday Lecture Before Congregation Rodeph Shalom, Pittsburg, Pa Joseph Leonard Levy,1915 The Challenge of Shalom Annette Daum,Eugene Fisher,1985 Loyola of Los Angeles Law Review ,1990 Jewish Studies in Violence Roberta Rosenberg Farber,Simcha Fishbane,2007-01-30 This collection of essays was compiled in response to the proliferation of violence throughout the modern world They constitute a multi disciplinary approach to the intersection of violence with Jewish life and thought Examined are ancient and modern examples of violence from the perspectives of Jewish studies philosophy history psychology and sociology Topics include the philosophical and psychological dimensions of violence and terror in Israel religious Zionism an overview of Jewish Law religious societies in antiquity anti Semitism among American workers during World War II British anti Semitic symbolism violence in Canadian Jewish communal life issues of conscription in Britain during war time and spousal abuse In conclusion David Shatz provides a Jewish perspective on the events of 9 11 followed by an examination of the halakhic response to the problem of evil by Moshe Sokol Peace Psychology Review ,1994

Israel as Center Stage A. Paul Hare,Gideon Kressel,2001 After introducing the dramaturgical perspectives by drawing on insights from anthropology sociology and the theater the contributors give examples of enactments for which the persons involved were quite conscious of the fact that they must first establish a stage or action area before they could perform As in theater the setting of the stage has implicit meanings and actions will then become explicit as the drama unfolds In Part I of the book the accounts of the early kibbutzniks who needed an action area for their collective agricultural settlements the new settlers who wish to reclaim Judea and Samaria and the African Americans who discovered that Israel was at the intersection of Hebrew and African traditions provide variations on this theme Part II details varieties of enactments that have and possibly will take place in Israel including an account of Ethiopian youths who experienced their crossing of the Sudan on their way to Israel to participate in the events of the Millennium Other accounts of social dramas describe the sulha the traditional Bedouin method of the resolution of a blood feud between Bedouin tribes and the religious pilgrimages by Jews Arabs and Christians to holy sites where they sometimes reenact a past event Christian Social Action ,1997
