Chanteuse In The City:

Chanteuse in the City Kelley Conway, 2004-09-06 A study of French film in the inter war years focusing on women particularly women singers and the role they played in shaping a national populist Paris oriented French cinema

Chanteuse in the City Prof. Kelley Conway, 2004-09-08 Long before Edith Piaf sang La vie en rose her predecessors took to the stage of the belle epoque music hall singing of female desire the treachery of men the harshness of working class life and the rough neighborhoods of Paris Icon of working class femininity and the underworld the realist singer signaled the emergence of new cultural roles for women as well as shifts in the nature of popular entertainment Chanteuse in the City provides a genealogy of realist performance through analysis of the music hall careers and film roles of Mistinguett Josephine Baker Fr hel and Damia Above all Conway offers a fresh interpretation of 1930s French cinema emphasizing its love affair with popular song and its close connections to the music hall and the caf concert Conway uncovers an important tradition of female performance in the golden era of French film usually viewed as a cinema preoccupied with masculinity She shows how in films such as P p le Moko Le Crime de Monsieur Lange and Zouzou the realist chanteuse addresses female despair at the hopelessness of love Conway also sheds light on the larger cultural implications of the shift from the intimate caf concert to the spectacular music hall before the talkies displaced both kinds of live performance altogether Musical Courier
