Challenge Of Military Reform In Postcommunist Europe Building Professional Armed Forces:

The Challenge of Military Reform in Postcommunist Europe A. Forster, T. Edmunds, 2002-10-23 This major comparative study examines the challenges faced by countries of postcommunist Europe in reforming and professionalizing their armed forces. It explores how the interaction of the common challenges of postcommunism and the diverse circumstances of individual countries are shaping professionalization processes in this changing region. The detailed country case studies in this volume, written by leading experts, to a common analytical framework compare the experiences of Poland, the Czech Republic, Slovakia, Hungary, Latvia, Lithuania, Romania, Bulgaria, Slovenia, Croatia, FRY, Russia, and Ukraine. Civil-Military Relations in Post-Communist Europe Timothy Edmunds, Andrew Cottey, Anthony Forster, 2013-10-18 Fifteen years after the fall of communism, we are able to appraise the results of the multi-faceted postcommunist transition in Central and Eastern Europe with authority. This volume specifically addresses the fascinating area of Civil-Military relations throughout this transitional period. The countries of the region inherited a onerous legacy in this area: their armed forces were part of the communist party state system and most were oriented towards Cold War missions; they were large in size and supported by high levels of defence spending and they were based on universal male conscription. Central and Eastern European states have thus faced a three-fold civil-military reform challenge: establishing democratic and civilian control over their armed forces; implementing organisational reform to meet the security and foreign policy demands of the new era; and redefining military bases for legitimacy in society. This volume assesses the experiences of Poland, Hungary, Latvia, Romania, Croatia, Serbia, Montenegro, Ukraine, and Russia in these areas. Collectively, these countries illustrate the way in which the interaction of broadly similar postcommunist challenges and distinct national contexts have combined to produce a wide variety of different patterns of civil-military relations. This book was previously published as a special issue of European Security.

Anatomy of Post-Communist European Defense Institutions Thomas-Durell Young, 2017-06-29 Although the West won the Cold War, the continuation of the status quo is not a foregone conclusion. The former Soviet-aligned regions outside of Russia, Ukraine, Poland, Czech Republic, and others sit atop decaying armed forces while Russian behavior has grown more and more aggressive, as evidenced by its intervention in Ukraine in recent years. Thomas Young delves into the state of these defense institutions in Central and Eastern Europe, whose resources have declined at a faster rate than their Western neighbors due to social and fiscal circumstances at home and shifting attitudes in the wider international community. With rigorous attention to the nuances of each region's politics and policies, he documents the status of reform of these armed forces and the role that Western nations have played since the Cold War, as well as identifying barriers to success and which management practices have been most effective in both Western and Eastern capitals. This is essential reading for undergraduates and graduates studying the recent history of Europe in the post-Soviet era, as well as those professionally involved in defense governance in the region. Towards Security Sector Reform in Post Cold War Europe Wilhelm N.

Germann,2003 Security Sector Reform SSR is a broad and ambitious notion that concerns establishing and improving those security relationships and architectures most commonly associated with liberal democracy Starting from the premise that there is no universally applicable model for SSR this volume explores the question how best to evaluate SSR in European context and analyses the conditions for determining and confirming criteria of success in this regard The systematic gathering analysing and evaluating of international expertise in democratic control management and reform of the security sector is one of the main functions of the Geneva Centre of the Democratic Control of Armed Forces DCAF The OECD DAC Handbook on Security System Reform Supporting Security and Justice OECD,2008-02-27 The OECD DAC Handbook on Security System Reform Supporting Security and Justice contains valuable tools to help encourage a dialogue on security and justice issues and to support a security system reform SSR process through the assessment design and implementation phases
