Europe's High-End Military Challenges Seth G. Jones, Rachel Ellehuus, 2022-02-02 This CSIS report examines the evolution of European military capabilities over the next decade It asks two main questions What military capabilities might European allies and partners of the United States possess by 2030 And what types of military missions will these states be able and unable to effectively perform by 2030 First European militaries including the largest and most capable European NATO members will continue to struggle to conduct several types of missions without significant U S assistance Second European militaries will face significant challenges in the Indo Pacific Third Europe's major powers will likely have the capability to conduct most types of missions at the lower end of the conflict continuum without significant U S military aid To sustain progress and overcome remaining challenges NATO will have to revise its burden sharing metrics modernize defense planning and procurement practices and address lagging political will

The European Challenge in Europe and the Western Balkans Region Igor Luksic, 2016 Where do we actually live What challenges are we facing here in Europe Are we even aware of all these challenges Are we aware of the pendulum that is constantly swinging The world is changing it is becoming poly centric What Mediterranean once was the Atlantic was after it and now the role has been taken by the Pacific Such comprehension has a devastating effect on the Euro centric view of the world A Copernican twist meaning that the roads no longer begin in Europe but instead we might all be fighting together to keep track with the rest of the world Is this the essence of the European interest to be on the path of the New Silk Road All the challenges listed above are without doubt European challenges They are challenges to Europe and also to us in the Western Balkans who aim to become a political and factual part of the EU And to make things more complex all the challenges mentioned here are relatively short term in nature as Europe like other parts of the world looks for answers to issues such as climate change energy needs food in the 21st century and the needs related to the demographic trends If in the 1960s and 1970s the demographic image of the world had resembled a pyramid in which the oldest people were the fewest in the general population and the youngest were the most numerous than today in Europe and in Montenegro this pyramid looks more like a cylinder which entails serious social expenditure This means social security expenses i e economic challenges given that we are facing various questions such as How to maintain productivity How to encourage economic activity How to provide pensions social security etc In that context an important issue for us in the region is how to be a part of this story of finding a new kind of identity

How Referendums Challenge European Democracy Richard Rose,2020-04-22 This book explains how citizens are using referendums to challenge decisions taken by the European Union The opening chapters compare the two chief institutions of electoral democracy parliamentary elections to decide who governs and referendums to decide policies The EU relies on international treaties for its authority to make policies Chapters analysing referendum voting on Europe in Britain Greece and the Netherlands show that cultural values can have a stronger influence than class The book uses Brexit the British referendum in which a majority voted for the UK leaving the European Union as the leading example of a conflict between national voters and the EU However taking back control of policymaking does not ensure effective policymaking when success depends not only on what the British Parliament does but also on decisions taken in Brussels Washington and elsewhere Boris Johnson s electoral success is insufficient to deliver all his promises in the world beyond Brexit The EU is challenged too as its policies increasingly depend on what happens on other continents
