Challenging Dr Carlisle:

Challenging Dr Carlisle Joanna Neil, 2004 The Struggle for Yemen and the Challenge of Al-Qaeda in the Arabian Peninsula W. Andrew Terrill, 2013 In recent years al Qaeda in the Arabian Peninsula AQAP has been widely recognized as a more dangerous regional and international terrorist organization than the original al Qaeda led by Osama bin Laden until his death in 2011 In 2010 11 AQAP was able to present a strong challenge to Yemen's government by capturing and retaining large areas in the southern part of the country Yemen's new reform President defeated AQAP and recaptured areas under their control in 2012 but the terrorists remain an extremely dangerous force seeking to reassert themselves at this time of transition in Yemen The Challenge of Drug Trafficking to Democratic Governance and Human Security in West Africa David Edward Brown, 2013 International criminal networks mainly from Latin America and Africa some with links to terrorism are turning West Africa into a key global hub for the distribution wholesaling and production of illicit drugs These groups represent an existential threat to democratic governance of already fragile states in the sub region because they are using narco corruption to stage coups and hijack elections and co opt or buy political power Besides a spike in drug related crime narcotics trafficking is also fraying West Africa's traditional social fabric and creating a public health crisis with hundreds of thousands of new drug addicts While the inflow of drug money may seem economically beneficial to West Africa in the short term investors will be less inclined to do business in the long term if the sub region is unstable On net drug trafficking and other illicit trade represent the most serious challenge to human security in the region since resource conflicts rocked several West African countries in the early 1990s International aid to West Africa's war on drugs is only in an initial stage progress will have to be measured in decades or even generations not years and also unfold in parallel with creating alternative sustainable livelihoods and addressing the longer term challenges of human insecurity poverty and underdevelopment Emergency at the Royal Joanna Neil, 2015-02-15 Falling for the handsome consultant all over again Dr Katie Sherbourn shouldn't get too close to A E consultant Drew Bradley She knows it would mean unsettling her ill father and alienating herself from her beloved family something she can't afford to do But memories of her relationship with Drew leave her yearning for his touch and working up close and personal with the handsome doctor at the Royal forces Katie to confront her feelings Could she really be falling for him all over again Enablers, Barriers, and Challenges for Inclusive Curriculum Charamba, Erasmov, Ndhlovana, Shalom Nokuthula, 2025-05-29 United Nations 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development Goal 4 seeks to ensure inclusive and equitable quality education and to promote lifelong learning opportunities for all learners Education can only unfold its full potential to transform our world if it is approached from a lifelong learning perspective In this way learners' lives are brought closer to education through integrated multi sectoral approaches that draw the focus from supply to demand In order to achieve this institutions and educators need to come up with strategies that are inclusive regardless of the student's intellectual challenges physical stature gender language culture or mode of learning

Once Again, the Challenge to the U.S. Army During a Defense Reduction Don M. Snider,2012 As with the post Cold War downsizing during the Clinton administration in the late 1990s one critical challenge for the U S Army centers on the qualitative institutional character of the Army after the reductions will the U S Army manifest the essential characteristics and behavior of a military profession with soldiers and civilians who see themselves sacrificially called to a vocation of service to country within a motivating professional culture that sustains a meritocratic ethic or will the Army's character be more like any other government occupation in which its members view themselves as filing a job motivated mostly by the extrinsic factors of pay location and work hours In mid 2010 the Secretary of the Army and the Chief of Staff directed the Commanding General Training and Doctrine Command then General Martin Dempsey to undertake a broad campaign of learning involving the entire Department The intent was to think through what it means for the Army to be a profession of arms and for its soldiers and civilians to be professionals as the Army largely returns stateside after a decade of war and then quickly transitions to the new era of Defense reductions Several new preceptions of the Army as a military profession have been produced along with numerous initiatives that are currently being staffed to strengthen the professional character of the Army as it simultaneously recovers from a decade of war and transitions through reductions in force They form the descriptive content of this monograph Spiritualism's Challenge Edwin Frederick Bowers,1936
