

Chill the bottle before opening

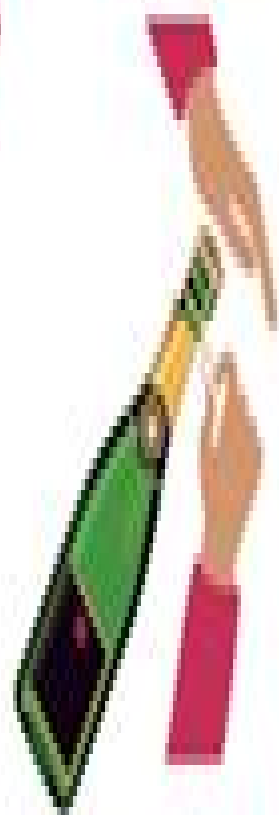

Pressure reduces as the bottle cools, and resulting cork velocity decreases. For the same reason, also avoid shaking the bottle before opening

Place the bottle away from others and yourself at a 45 degree angle before opening

Remove the wire cage (which could act as an additional projectile) carefully from top of the bottle while pressing down on the cork with the palm of a hand

Place a towel over the top of the bottle and hold the cork firmly

Gently twist the bottle, until the cork loosens. Counteract the upward moving force of the cork, by pressing down on it
