

CHANGE DISCOVERY LEADS TO CHANGE

It took one small nugget to change
the whole country.

On January 24, 1848, James Marshall found a few bits of gold—less than an ounce—in the tailrace of John Sutter's sawmill along the American River. This wasn't the first time gold had been found in California, but the time was right for change. This discovery would transform the West—and the country. In a few short years, California grew from a remote destination into a golden state where fortunes could be made.

And you are where it all started.
