Change in the Village (Classic Reprint) George Bourne,2015-07-19 Excerpt from Change in the Village If one were to be very strict I suppose it would be wrong to give the name of village to the parish dealt with in these chapters because your true village should have a sort of corporate history of its own and this one can boast nothing of the kind It clusters round no central green no squire ever lived in it until some thirty years ago it was without a resident parson its church is not half a century old Nor are there here in the shape of patriarchal fields or shady lanes or venerable homesteads any of those features that testify to the immemorial antiquity of real villages as the homes of men and this for a very simple reason In the days when real villages were growing our valley could not have supported a quite self contained community it was in fact nothing but a part of the wide rolling heath country the common or waste belonging to the town which lies northwards in a more fertile valley of its own Here there was no fertility About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works      CHANGE IN THE

Environmental Change and the World's Futures Jonathan Paul Marshall, Linda H. Connor, 2015-08-27 Climate change and ecological instability have the potential to disrupt human societies and their futures Cultural social and ethical life in all societies is directed towards a future that can never be observed and never be directly acted upon and yet is always interacting with us Thinking and acting towards the future involves efforts of imagination that are linked to our sense of being in the world and the ecological pressures we experience The three key ideas of this book ecologies ontologies and mythologies help us understand the ways people in many different societies attempt to predict and shape their futures Each chapter places a different emphasis on the linked domains of environmental change embodied experience myth and fantasy politics technology and intellectual reflection in relation to imagined futures The diverse geographic scope of the chapters includes rural Nepal the islands of the Pacific Ocean Sweden coastal Scotland North America and remote rural and urban Australia This book will appeal to researchers and students in anthropology sociology environmental studies cultural studies psychology and politics
