Mary Carroll Moore

Changing Eyes Changing Lives:

Changing Eyes, Changing Lives Mildred Hester Marshall, 1984 Changing Lives Taylor Stoebr, 2015-12-22 Changing Lives recounts the experiences of a dozen men on probation in Massachusetts who took classes for three months to read and talk about great works of literature. The men explored the writings of Malcolm X, Leo Tolstoy and Anton Chekhov among others. In these writings the men discovered many issues relating to their own lives such as substance abuse, family breakdown, poverty and racism. The lessons create a safe space for reflection and earnest conversation in which the students no longer have to bluff or be cool, guarded or evasive. And because the classroom puts them on equal footing with authority figures, teachers, probation officers and even judges, a new social awareness begins to emerge. Changing Lives shows how reawakening moral consciousness and a fresh commitment to society is essential if probationers are not to cycle endlessly through the limbo of street life and jail time. The Exodus Breaking Cycles and Changing Lives Rev. Patrina M.

Wright, 2011-12-21 Each year in the United States an estimated two to six million women are victims of domestic violence. Domestic violence is a pattern of assaultive and coercive behaviors including physical, sexual, financial, spiritual and psychological abuse. Domestic violence is about control, manipulation and domination. Ninety-five percent of assaults on spouses or ex-spouses are committed by men against women. Too afraid and too ashamed to speak up, there are countless numbers of women sitting in churches all across America suffering in silence. Victims and perpetrators are from all ages, racial, socioeconomic, sexual orientation, educational, occupational, geographic and religious groups. If you or someone you know has ever experienced domestic violence, you are in need of a personal life-changing encounter with a powerful God. One who delights in healing wounds and setting the captive free. The Exodus is that kind of encounter, it's about coming face to face with a Holy God as He does those things that you cannot do for yourself. The Change of Life in Health and Disease
