Changing Images A. P. Obura, 1991 Practising Gender Analysis in Education Fiona E. Leach, 2003 This companion applies the Harvard framework women's empowerment approach gender analysis matrix and social relations approach to analysis of a variety of educational contexts including national education policies and projects schools colleges ministries teaching and learning materials and school and teacher training curricula Gender and Education in Kenya Esther Mukewa Lisanza, 2021-04-28 Gender and Education in Kenya explores the intersections of curriculum pedagogy policy and gender The contributors study depictions of gender in textbooks the presence and roles of girls and women within classrooms in Kenya and female leadership in education arguing that despite recent policies put in place by the Kenyan government to ensure gender parity in education there is still a need to make curriculum more gender responsive Gender and Education in Kenya examines the disparity between male and female representation in education and advocate for more training for teachers about gender related educational policies and implementing gender responsive objectives in classrooms The collection concludes with a study of the intersection of gender and disability with a chapter that explores the additional challenges for a blind girl in school and the lack of policies in place to help disabled students Equity in the Classroom Patricia Murphy, C. V. Gipps, 1996 Concerned with pedagogy and the learning achievement of both girls and boys this book examines international trends in subject performance throughout schooling and looks critically at a range of interventions in difference contexts and countries all aimed at enhancing equity in schools and higher education institutions The book argues that pedagogy can not be isolated from the overarching gender education system What can be done it claims is that teachers can be provided with a range of pedagogic strategies which can be used to make education as it is experienced by students and reflected in their achievements more just Equity in the Classroom Caroline V. Gipps, 2003-09-02 Concerned with pedagogy and the learning achievement of both girls and boys this book examines international trends in subject performance throughout schooling and looks critically at a range of interventions in difference contexts and countries all aimed at enhancing equity in schools and higher education institutions The book argues that pedagogy can not be isolated from the overarching gender education system What can be done it claims is that teachers can be provided with a range of pedagogic strategies which can be used to make education as it is experienced by students and reflected in their achievements more just Gender, Sexuality and Development, 2008-01-01 This book provides a timely contribution to the field of gender and development in the face of the looming failure of international development targets the deepening HIV AIDS pandemic and the increased incidence of civil conflict in Sub Saharan Africa The overall ambition of the collection is to question assumptions behind much development policy and practice and to push out conceptual boundaries by providing critical insights from local empirical studies that bring new theoretical configurations to specific policy and practice contexts The chapter contributions are from African and Northern writers who have critically engaged with the ways that gendered and sexual identities are produced in particular educational and social settings in this diverse continent After providing a consolidation of the field the book highlights its departures from earlier work on gender education society and development to open spaces that provide a springboard for further research and critique around persistent and enduring development issues Following two introductory chapters the text is organised in four main sections concerning gendered institutions sexual identities HIV AIDS and conflict In addressing such critical issues this edited collection is essential reading for professionals policy makers practitioners and students from a wide range of institutions including government departments international agencies NGOs and universities in Sub Saharan Africa as well as in other low and high income countries worldwide New Books on Women and Feminism ,1993
