Channeling Moroccanness Becky L.

Schulthies,2020-12-01 Honorable Mention 2022 L Carl Brown AIMS Book Prize in North African Studies What does it mean to connect as a people through mass media This book approaches that question by exploring how Moroccans engage communicative failure as they seek to shape social and political relations in urban Fez Over the last decade laments of language and media failure in Fez have focused not just on social relations that used to be and have been lost but also on what ought to be and had yet to be realized Such laments have transpired in a range of communication channels from objects such as devotional prayer beads and remote controls to interactional forms such as storytelling dress styles and orthography to media platforms like television news religious stations or WhatsApp group chats Channeling Moroccanness examines these laments as ways of speaking that created Moroccanness the feeling of participating in the ongoing formations of Moroccan relationality Rather than furthering the discourse about Morocco s conflict between liberal secularists and religious conservatives this ethnography shows the subtle range of ideologies and practices evoked in Fassi homes to calibrate Moroccan sociality and political consciousness Constructing an Indicator of Consumption for the Analysis of Poverty

Jesko Hentschel,Peter Lanjouw,1996-01-01 Living Standards Measurement Study Working Paper No 123 This paper analyzes the determinants of demand for medical services in urban areas of Bolivia It also examines the possible trade offs between cost recovery and the use of health services for different age sex ethnic and income groups The data drawn from a multipurpose household survey conducted by the World Bank and Bolivia s statistical office are used in designing an econometric model to measure the price elasticity of demand for medical care LSMS Working Paper Victor Lavy,1995

This study estimates the incidence characteristics and patterns of change over time of illiteracy in Morocco The study compares the results from direct literacy assessment to the conventional methods of self reported literacy This effort has provided more detailed objective information with which patterns of literacy skills in the country may be determined and their relationship to other important social and economic behaviors and outcomes analyzed It also examines more closely the reliability and validity of common proxy indicators used to estimate literacy rates and skill levels Results show that Morocco has been able to halve its literacy rate during the last 30 years however large disparities remain between men and women and between urban and rural areas Implications for methods of measuring literacy and for formulating policy to increase literacy are discussed EH Is Functional Literacy a Prerequisite for Entering the Labor Market?
