Changing The Guard Private Prisons And The Control Of Crime:

Changing the Guard Alexander Tabarrok, 2002-10-01 Changing the Guard is an authoritative survey of one of the most controversial aspects of criminal justice and corrections the growing use of private prisons When prison privatization began in the United States in the early 1980s many policy analysts claimed it would increase costs decrease quality and erode state authority Has it Changing the Guard brings together leading criminal justice researchers to tackle this and related questions Does prison privatization make economic sense What are the prospects for enlarging prison privatization Changing the Guard also examines the broader questions that surround the prison privatization debate What are the historical precedents for prison privatization What do we know about punishment and recidivism How long must a prison sentence be to deter crime Are too many people in prison or too few Should legal reform take precedence over prison reform to ensure that privatization does not simply make the criminal justice system more efficient at abusing civil liberties and executing legal injustices

Inside Private Prisons Lauren-Brooke Eisen, 2017-11-07 When the tough on crime politics of the 1980s overcrowded state prisons private companies saw potential profit in building and operating correctional facilities Today more than a hundred thousand of the 1.5 million incarcerated Americans are held in private prisons in twenty nine states and federal corrections Private prisons are criticized for making money off mass incarceration to the tune of 5 billion in annual revenue Based on Lauren Brooke Eisen's work as a prosecutor journalist and attorney at policy think tanks Inside Private Prisons blends investigative reportage and quantitative and historical research to analyze privatized corrections in America From divestment campaigns to boardrooms to private immigration detention centers across the Southwest Eisen examines private prisons through the eyes of inmates their families correctional staff policymakers activists Immigration and Customs Enforcement employees undocumented immigrants and the executives of America's largest private prison corporations Private prisons have become ground zero in the anti mass incarceration movement Universities have divested from these companies political candidates hesitate to accept their campaign donations and the Department of Justice tried to phase out its contracts with them On the other side impoverished rural towns often try to lure the for profit prison industry to build facilities and create new jobs Neither an endorsement nor a demonization Inside Private Prisons details the complicated and perverse incentives rooted in the industry from mandatory bed occupancy to vested interests in mass incarceration If private prisons are here to stay how can we fix them This book is a blueprint for policymakers to reform practices and for concerned citizens to understand our changing carceral landscape

Corrections and the Criminal Justice System David C. May, Kevin I. Minor, Betsy A. Matthews, 2008 Corrections And The Criminal Justice System Is Designed To Help Students Understand Corrections In Relation To The Entire Criminal Justice System This Text Begins With An Overview Of The Field Of Criminal Justice And Covers The Components Of The Criminal Justice System That An Offender Must Pass Through Prior To His Her Corrections Experience Police Courts And Sentencing The Second Part Of The Text Shows Students How

Savas, 2005-05-12 A proponent of privatization since the late 1960s Savas City U of New York Baruch College examines privatization efforts in nine large US cities In particular he identifies documents and evaluates New York City's privatization program under Mayor Rudolph Giuliani Savas analyzes the successful thwarted and failed efforts in New York conc Lessons from the Poor Alvaro Vargas Llosa, 2008-05 An important contribution to the literature of economic development this book presents case studies of productive entrepreneurship in contemporary Africa and Latin America It looks at the growth of Kenya's chain stores and one person kiosks the rise of barter clubs in Argentina and Nigeria's clothing design industry to illustrate economists insights about entrepreneurship and the role that government regulations often play in impeding economic development Half the people in the world live on two dollars or less per day and roughly 600 million live on no more than one dollar per day With thousands of international relief organizations strategic government programs and billions of dollars in foreign aid why do so many underdeveloped countries remain unable to grow their economies beyond mere survival It is this issue that internationally acclaimed political analyst Alvaro Vargas Llosa and a select group of economists examine in a series of case studies from around the world These studies reveal that entrepreneurial energy can be a persistent catalyst for change But unfortunately in societies dominated by political corruption and unnecessary regulation men and women seeking to innovate must hurdle a series of challenges Wealth transfer favoritism excessive taxation and lack of institutional security all conspire against progress Our contributors examine real world examples of entrepreneurship and argue that instead of redistributing existing wealth developing countries should start working to create it Making Poor Nations Rich Benjamin Powell, 2008 Making Poor Nations Rich illustrates the importance of institutions that support economic freedom and private property rights for promoting the form of productive entrepreneurship that leads to sustained increases in countries standard of living The Challenge of Liberty Robert Higgs, Carl P. Close, 2006-02 Is Classical Liberalism Still Vital The quest for freedom has always been as much a battle of ideas as it is a popular struggle Classical liberal pioneers such as John Locke and Adam Smith stressed the inherent worth of the individual inalienable rights and the benevolent consequences of the cooperative peaceful pursuit of one's own happiness These ideas became the intellectual scaffolding for much of the West's most fundamental institutions and achievements Yet after its 19th century high water mark classical liberalism lost much of its passion focus and popular support Intellectual trends increasingly began to support coercive egalitarianism empire and central planning at the expense of individual liberty personal responsibility private property natural law and free institutions But the eclipse of classical liberalism by contemporary liberalism and conservatism is passing The Challenge of Liberty restores the ideas and ideals of classical liberalism and shows how its contemporary exponents defend such pillars of free societies as individual rights human dignity market processes and the rule of law

Prohibitions John Meadowcroft,2008 This collection of essays examines those areas where the freedom of individual men and women to voluntarily engage in mutually advantageous exchanges is prohibited or restricted by government The authors critically examine the economic and philosophical rationale for the prohibition of alcohol the sale of body parts medicinal drugs pornography prostitution recreational drugs tobacco and trade in endangered species among other topics
