Chaos And Governance In The Modern World System:

Chaos and Governance in the Modern World System Giovanni Arrighi, 1999 In a period of dramatic transformation and upheaval as we wonder what the future holds this book reminds us that the world has undergone enormous changes before and that an understanding of those changes may tell us something about our own turbulent time The authors look to two earlier periods that resemble the present in key respects the transition from Dutch to British world hegemony in the eighteenth century and the transition from British to U S world hegemony in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries In each case a system wide expansion culminated in crisis and systemic chaos eventually a new hegemonic power reorganized the system to solve the problems and contradictions that underlay the chaos The authors find recurrent characteristics in these transitions such as the resurgence of finance capital and the intensification of interstate rivalries and social conflict They also recognize however how the present transition differs from the previous patterns Among the anomalies are the proliferation of transnational organizations and communities increased social conflict in driving systemic change a geographical split between military and financial powers and a shift in the processes of capital accumulation away from the West Chaos and Governance in the Modern World System addresses controversies affecting a range of fields political economic social and cultural concerned with global change Though written from a world systems perspective it emphasizes the instability and adaptability of world capitalism and the role played by hegemonic states in periodically reorganizing the system

The Modern World-system in the Longue Durée Immanuel Maurice Wallerstein, 2004 Some of today's most prominent academics discuss the capitalist world economy Critical Theories of Globalization C. el-Ojeili, P. Hayden, 2006-07-28 This accessible text provides a comprehensive overview of globalization and its consequences from the perspective of social and political critical theory Thematic chapters provoke student inquiry and the book shows how the views of critical theorists are crucial to understanding the global processes shaping the world today Capital, Race and Space, Volume I Richard Saull, 2023-05-15 In this first volume of Capital Race and Space Richard Saull offers an international historical sociology of the European far right from its origins in the 1848 revolutions to fascism Providing a distinct and original explanation of the evolution and mutations of the far right Saull emphasizes its international causal dimensions through the prism of uneven and combined development Focusing on the twin political and economic transformations that dominated the second half of the nineteenth century the book discusses the connections between class race and geography in the evolution of far right movements and how the crises in the development of a liberal world order were central to the advance of the far right ultimately helping to produce fascism Volumes I and II of Capital Race and Space were shortlisted for the 2024 BISA IPEG book prize for best book published in the field of IPE in 2023 and subsequently recognised by the IPEG Book Prize Committee as Highly Commended The shortlisted books represent the very best of IPE scholarship cutting across disciplinary boundaries and addressing timely topics China and the 21st Century Crisis Minqi Li, 2015-10-20 The USA is widely seen as the country at the centre of the recent economic crash But will this be the case the next time the system goes into shock This book analyses how the political and economic imbalances in China will exacerbate system collapse and how this could happen much sooner than we imagine possibly within a decade By looking at the big questions of class struggle global economic imbalances peak oil climate change and political power play Minqi Li argues that by the time of the next crisis China will be at the epicentre of these contradictions China is the last large region and source of cheap labour into which capital could expand the system is at its limits By combining this argument with issues surrounding the planet's ecological limits and the internal politics of the Chinese Communist Party Li commands a narrative of China at a pivotal and possibly apocalyptic stage

The European Union and Global Social Change József Böröcz, 2009-09-10 This book provides an historical analysis of what the European Union is Examining the development of the EU in a global context the book draws on long term processes of change in historical depth to developing a deeper understanding of global social change

Tactical Media Rita Riley, 2009 Tactical media describes interventionist media art practices that engage and critique the dominant political and economic order Rather than taking to the streets and staging spectacular protests the practitioners of tactical media engage in an aesthetic politics of disruption intervention and education In Tactical Media Rita Riley provides a critical exploration of the new media art activism that has emerged out of and in direct response to postindustrialism and neoliberal globalization

Visible Histories, Disappearing Women Mahua Sarkar, 2008-04-25 Argues that the discursive erasure of Muslim women within colonial and Hindu nationalist discourse underpinned the construction of other identity categories in late colonial Bengal and remains linked to violence against Indian Muslim women today

Profit, Accumulation, and Crisis in Capitalism Minqi Li, 2020-01-31 Karl Marx hypothesized that there is a long term tendency for the profit rate to fall in capitalist economies Immanuel Wallerstein hypothesized that capitalist development tends to drive up labor cost material cost and taxation cost This book evaluates Marx's and Wallerstein's hypotheses by studying the long term movement of the profit rate and contributing factors in major capitalist economies During the twentieth century leading capitalist economies largely succeeded in stabilizing the profit rate However the current decline of the profit rate in China may precipitate the global capitalist economy into a new major crisis As economic growth slows down in all major capitalist economies Marx's original hypothesis may be verified by the global economic events in the twenty first century

Wilma A. Dunaway, 2003 As one half of the latest edition of Immanuel Wallerstein's Political Economy of the World System series this collection offers cutting edge theoretical directions to explain the structural crises of the 21st century world system Contributors argue that the capitalist world system has reached a critical bifurcation point a short period which will be characterized by a sudden shift in the long term structural forces that have created and sustained the world as we know it Writers challenge conventional thinking about the most significant structural crises that face the 21st century world system including terrorism debt the growth of megacities as global actors the emergence of a powerful transnational capitalist class and the world ecological crisis Slavic Review, 2004 American quarterly of Soviet and East European studies varies

An Academic Green Paper to European Contract Law Stefan Grundmann, 2002-12-10 The Contract is the core tool of governance in a free market economy An EU Contract Law Code is now on the political agenda because all three legislative bodies in the EU and most member states favour it in principle In its communication of July 2001 the Commission proposed three major options to enhance the existing EC Contract Law by eliminating inconsistencies introducing a European Code which substitutes national laws and introducing a European code which only supplements national laws This book achieves three things For the first time European academia is discussing these three options in an extensive and systematic way with pros and cons in a transparent and systematic way along broad lines and often also important details The book contains the views of all protagonists from all those who really drafted the models to all those who illustrated the potential of decentralized rule making and invented the very idea of an Optional Code This is the first book in which the optional Code which is the alternative most likely to come is thoroughly analysed at all This work also contains a full map of design possibilities It is the executive summary of what European academia thinks of the future of European Contract Law and a European Code It is the Academic Green Paper on European Contract Law New Left Review, 2009 A Theory of Global Capitalism William I. Robinson, 2004-03-12 In this book sociologist William Robinson offers a theory of globalization that follows the rise of a new capitalist class and a new type of state formation He explains how global capital mobility has allowed capital to reorganize production worldwide in accordance with a whole range of considerations that allow for maximizing profit making opportunities This worldwide decentralization and fragmentation of the production process has taken place alongside the centralization of command and control of the global economy in transnational capital In turn this economic reorganization finds a political counterpart in the rise of the transnational state In the future Robinson argues hegemony will be exercised not by a particular nation state but by the new global ruling class who regardless of their nationality tend to share similar lifestyles and interact through expanding networks of this transnational state In this way the process of globalization is unifying the world into a single mode of production that is increasingly integrating different countries and regions into a new global economy and society Robinson concludes that because the new global capitalism is rife with Globalization and the Decline of the Welfare State in Less Developed Countries Nita Rudra, 2000
