Architecture and Space Re-imagined Richard Bower, 2016-06-10 As with so many facets of contemporary western life architecture and space are often experienced and understood as a commodity or product The premise of this book is to offer alternatives to the practices and values of such westernised space and Architecture with a capital A by exploring the participatory and grass roots practices used in alternative development models in the Global South This process re contextualises the spaces values and relationships produced by such alternative methods of development and social agency It asks whether such spatial practices provide concrete realisations of some key concepts of Western spatial theory questioning whether we might challenge the space and architectures of capitalist development by learning from the places and practices of others Exploring these themes offers a critical examination of alternative development practices methods in the Global South re contextualising them as architectural engagements with socio political space The comparison of such interdisciplinary contexts and discourses reveals the political social and economic resonances inherent between these previously unconnected spatial protagonists The interdependence of spatial issues of choice value and identity are revealed

through a comparative study of the discourses of Henri Lefebvre John Turner Doreen Massey and Nabeel Hamdi These key protagonists offer a critical framework of discourses from which further connections to socio spatial discourses and concepts are made including post marxist theory orientalism post structural pluralism development anthropology post colonial theory hybridity difference and subalterneity By looking to the spaces and practices of alternative development in the Global South this book offers a critical reflection upon the working practices of Westernised architecture and other spatial and political practices In exploring the methodologies implications and values of such participatory development practices this book ultimately seeks to articulate the positive potential and political of learning from the difference multiplicity and otherness of development practice in order to re imagine architecture and space The Challenge of Sustainable Cities Rod Burgess, Marisa Carmona, Theo Kolstee, 1997-09-15 This volume by urban planners and architects assesses the current state of play between urban theory policy and architectural and planning practice in developing countries It explains and criticises what is happening in cities in an era now dominated by neoliberal development policy compares and contrasts the various policy and planning approaches and explores how they are changing the role of architects planners and other professionals The contributors focus on the principal issues that exist in urban environmental strategy the spatial restructuring of cities and the attempts to foster more participation in urban programmes and management The originality of thought the diversity of case material and the specific policy focus make this book an important contribution to the formulation of future urban strategies in the South Engineers and Communities Earthea Nance, 2013-01-01 Engineers and Communities traces the evolution of a small but important innovation in Brazil from 1980 through 2005 Through a series of grand experiments with participatory water and sanitation coalitions of engineers planners public officials and residents revealed the essential elements of how urban services can be made to be more inclusive Human Settlement Development - Volume I Saskia Sassen, 2009-09-30 Human Settlement Development is a component of Encyclopedia of Institutional and Infrastructural Resources in the global Encyclopedia of Life Support Systems EOLSS which is an integrated compendium of twenty one Encyclopedias The Theme on Human Settlement Development deals in nine parts and four volumes with a myriad of issues of great relevance to our world such as Urban Sustainability and the Regional City System in the Asia Pacific Peri Urbanization Zones of Rural Urban Transition Urban Sustainability Theoretical Perspectives on Integrating Economic Development and the Environment Rural Sustainability Using Foreign Direct Investment to Improve Urban Environmental Infrastructure and Services The Case of Hanoi Vietnam The Long Road Towards Sustainable Cities The Dutch case Urban Dimensions of Sustainable Development Rural Development Participation and Diversity for Sustainability The Cities the State and the Markets In Search of Sustainability These four volumes are aimed at the following five major target audiences University and College students Educators Professional practitioners Research personnel and Policy analysts managers and decision makers and NGOs Urban and Transit Planning (Vol 1): Strategies, Innovations and Climate Management Francesco Alberti, Simon

Elias Bibri, Cristina Piselli, Paola Gallo, Abraham R. Matamanda, Hamid Rabiei, Rosa Romano, Ayse Ozcan Buckley, 2025-03-04

This book explores aspects of creating cities and structures with a focus on sustainability. It provides an analysis of contemporary methodologies, technologies, and principles essential for designing urban environments and buildings that significantly reduce environmental impact. Moreover, it emphasizes the importance of energy efficiency, resource conservation, and the integration of green spaces to enhance the quality of life for urban dwellers. Covering a broad spectrum of topics from sustainable urban mobility to green architecture and smart city initiatives, this book serves as an invaluable resource for professionals, researchers, and students. Furthermore, it aims to inspire and guide those dedicated to developing a sustainable future through innovative and responsible urban planning and architectural design practices. Market Economy and Urban Change

Mohamed Hamza, Roger Zetter, 2013-06-17 Across the developing world, the preceding decade or so has witnessed a profound reconfiguration of the political economy of urban policy. This new policy environment is driven by globalization, the neo-liberal macro-economic package of market enablement and structural adjustment, which now form the dominant development paradigm. The consequences of this approach for urban development agendas and ultimately the lives and livelihoods of millions of people across the globe are profound. Market Economy and Urban Change explores and evaluates urban sector and development policies in the context of market enablement and the associated instruments of structural adjustment, urban management reform, and good governance. By articulating the linkages between this neo-liberal development paradigm and the way different actors in the urban sector enact policy responses, the book provides an understanding of both the factors driving market enablement and its impacts on urban sector policies and programmes. With case studies drawn from countries such as Egypt, Mexico, Kenya, Brazil, Colombia, and transitional economies, the book focuses in particular on the implications for land, shelter, and related sectoral policies for poverty alleviation. By linking policy to practice, the book seeks to inform policy makers in governments, donor and implementing agencies of the impact of shifts in the development debate on urban sector strategies. Sustainable Cities in Developing Countries

Cedric D. J. Pugh, 2000 This text addresses the difficulties of balancing the imperatives of sustainability with the pressing challenges facing some of the world's most underdeveloped areas. Various perspectives are brought to bear on issues from economics and theories of health through to the foundations of sustainability. All the key contemporary developments are dealt with: the growth in international law and agreements on controlling greenhouse gases, the effect of reforms in finance, governance, and methods of appraisal on the areas of waste management, and the theoretical advances in the community development aspects of health and the neighbourhood environment, guided by the experiences of the World Bank, WHO, and UNEP. The text is intended as a guidebook for those responsible for re-shaping cities in the 21st century. Strategies for Sustainable Development

J. Overton, R. Schewens, 1999-08-20 This book shows how the environments and cultures of Polynesia, Micronesia, and Melanesia need to be taken careful account of in fashioning sustainable development projects and strategies.
