Challenging Violence in Schools Martin Mills, 2001 This book explores the relationship between violence and masculinity within schools There is a clear need to explore this relationship A substantial amount of evidence exists which demonstrates how boys are the major perpetrators of violence in schools from extreme acts of violence such as school shootings in the US to more common forms of schoolyard bullying and that both girls and boys are their victims The book suggests that violence has been masculinized in such a way that boys often perpetrate violence as a means of demonstrating their perception of what counts as a valued form of masculinity This masculinization of violence has often meant that girls experience violence from boys who are seeking to demonstrate their superiority over girls and it has also meant that some boys often experience violence due to their non conformity to dominant images of masculinity In order to support these arguments the book draws on extensive interview data collected from boys and teachers who were involved in anti violence programmes in their schools

Gender Identities in a Globalized World Ana Marta Gonzalez, Victor J. Seidler, 2008-12-16 This cross disciplinary collection of essays focuses on gender from multiple perspectives touching on a variety of aspects that range from specific tendencies such as fashion to general trends connected to globalization human dignity and world migration The main themes include human rights political economy cultural diversity democracy immigration dignity care and shifts in hegemonic male models of societies The volume differs from others published on gender as it focuses on the impact of globalization on gender identities and examines the potential for global masculinities and feminisms as well as the implications that these might have on the local level The multidisciplinary approach allows for analysis of the topic from several different points of view and methodologies The pioneering studies in this unique volume will be of great interest to sociologists feminists philosophers and scholars and students of gender identity and globalization trends

Intersections of Gender, Race, and Class Marcia Texler Segal, Theresa A. Martinez, 2007 Engaging Men in Building Gender Equality Michael Flood (Lecturer in sociology), Richard Howson, 2015 Across the globe there are growing efforts to engage men and boys in building more equitable relations with women and girls Programs engaging them have proliferated in fields such as violence prevention sexual and reproductive health parenting education and work and the last decade has seen the emergence of national and global campaigns as well as initiatives by international agencies and scholarly research This volume brings together key discussions and evaluations from the field

Gender and the Restructured University Ann Brooks, Alison Mackinnon, 2001 In these nine chapters fourteen academics from the UK Australia and New Zealand examine some recently accelerating changes in higher education and the possible implications for female academics They analyze the globalization process the global knowledge economy the influences of new technologies new managerial styles and organizational structures and cultures accompanying the new dominant economic theories and a shift in the focus of universities from traditional concerns of liberal education to national wealth creation The authors consider the effects of this corporate competition dominated orientation on female academics and the threats which organizational restructuring may pose to gender equity among academics Cahiers de la Femme ,2001 Law & Inequality ,2016 Physical Education, Curriculum, and Culture David Kirk,Richard Tinning,1990 This collection of studies addresses contemporary issues and problems in the physical education curriculum The editors stress that physical education is a part of social life and is therefore a key site for the production of cultural mores values and symbols
