Changes In Income Distribution During The Great Depression:

Changes in Income Distribution During the Great Depression Horst Mendershausen, 1946      The Great Recession and the Distribution of Household Income Stephen P. Jenkins, 2013 The so called Great Recession that followed the global financial crisis at the end of 2007 was the largest economic downturn since the 1930s for most rich countries To what extent were household incomes affected by this event and how did the effects differ across countries This is the first cross national study of the impact of the Great Recession on the distribution of household incomes Looking at real income levels poverty rates and income inequality it focusses on the period 2007-9 but also considers longer term impacts Three vital contributions are made First the book reviews lessons from the past about the relationships between macroeconomic change and the household income distribution Second it considers the experience of 21 rich OECD member countries drawing on a mixture of national accounts and labour force and household survey data Third the book presents case study evidence for six countries Germany Ireland Italy Sweden the UK and the USA The book shows that between 2007 and 2009 government support through the tax and benefit system provided a cushion against the downturn and household income distributions did not change much But after 2009 there is likely to be much greater change in incomes as a result of the fiscal consolidation measures that are being put into place to address the structural deficits accompanying the recession The book's main policy lesson is that stabilisation of the household income distribution in the face of macroeconomic turbulence is an achievable policy goal at least in the short term

Income Distribution in Historical Perspective Y. S. Brenner, Hartmut Kaelble, Mark Thomas, 1991-10-03 In this volume a distinguished team of international contributors consider some of the central long term issues raised by the problem of income distribution The Kuznets curve i.e. the notion that income distribution became increasingly unequal during the period of industrialization and progressively less unequal during the twentieth century lies at the center of much of the analysis and its relevance is discussed in a wide ranging series of articles covering the British Belgian German Australian Austrian and American experiences This volume is the first in many years to take such a broad comparative approach to income distribution and makes an important and authoritative contribution to an area of perennial debate      Dynamic Changes of Income and Its Distribution in Japan Chōtarō Takahashi, 1959      A Report on Research on Income Size Distribution in the United States George Garvy, 1955      The Economic Record Douglas Berry Copland, 1947 Includes section Reviews      Cyclical Variations of the Consumption Function James W.
