Changing States Transformations In Modern Irish Writing:

Changing States Robert Welch, 1993 Historical Dictionary of Ireland Frank A. Biletz, 2013-11-14 All places undergo change but in few has this change been quite as sweeping as Ireland both the independent Republic of Ireland and dependent Northern Ireland so it is good to see where it is heading at present Obviously that has to be judged on the background of where it is coming from not only over the past decade or so but over centuries and indeed millennia This new edition of Historical Dictionary of Ireland is an excellent resource for discovering the history of Ireland This is done through a chronology an introductory essay and an extensive bibliography The cross referenced dictionary section has over 600 entries on significant persons places and events political parties and institutions including the Catholic church with period forays into literature music and the arts This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Ireland The Cambridge Companion to Brian Friel Anthony Roche, 2006-10-19 Brian Friel is widely recognized as Ireland's greatest living playwright winning an international reputation through such acclaimed works as Translations 1980 and Dancing at Lughnasa 1990 This 2006 collection of specially commissioned essays includes contributions from leading commentators on Friel's work including two fellow playwrights and explores the entire range of his career from his 1964 breakthrough with Philadelphia Here I Come to his most recent success in Dublin and London with The Home Place 2005 The essays approach Friel's plays both as literary texts and as performed drama and provide the perfect introduction for students of both English and Theatre Studies as well as theatregoers The collection considers Friel's lesser known works alongside his more celebrated plays and provides a comprehensive critical survey of his career This is a comprehensive study of Friel's work and includes a chronology and further reading suggestions Joyce, Derrida, Lacan and the Trauma of History Christine van Boheemen, 1999-09-18 In Joyce Derrida Lacan and the Trauma of History Christine van Boheemen Saaf examines the relationship between Joyce's postmodern textuality and the traumatic history of colonialism in Ireland Joyce's influence on Lacanian psychoanalysis and Derrida's philosophy Van Boheemen Saaf suggests ought to be viewed from a postcolonial perspective She situates Joyce's writing as a practice of indirect witnessing to a history that remains unspeakable The loss of a natural relationship to language in Joyce calls for a new ethical dimension in the process of reading The practice of reading becomes an act of empathy to what the text cannot express in words In this way she argues Joyce's work functions as a material location for the inner voice of Irish cultural memory This book engages with a wide range of contemporary critical theory and brings Joyce's work into dialogue with thinkers such as Žižek Adorno Lyotard as well as feminism and postcolonial theory Border States in the Work of Tom Mac Intyre Catriona Ryan, 2012-01-17 This work analyses the prose and drama of the Irish writer Tom Mac Intyre and the concept of paleo postmodernism It examines how Mac Intyre balances traditional themes with experimentation which in the Irish literary canon is unusual This book argues that Mac Intyre's position in the Irish literary canon is an idiosyncratic one in that he combines two contrary aspects of Irish literature between what Beckett terms as the Yeatsian antiquarians who valorize the Victorian Gael and the others whose aesthetic involves a European influenced breakdown of the object which is associated with Beckett Mac Intyre's experimentation involves a breakdown of the object in order to uncover an unconscious Irish mythological and linguistic space in language. His approach to language experimentation is Yeatsian and this is what the author terms as paleo postmodern. Thus the project considers how Mac Intyre incorporates Yeatsian revivalism with postmodern deconstruction in his drama and short stories.

Ireland John R. Strachan, Alison O'Malley-Younger, 2010. The essays in this collection all revolve around the notion of change in Ireland whether by revolution or by evolution. Developments in the shared histories of Ireland and Great Britain are an important theme throughout the book. The volume begins by examining two remarkable Irishmen on the make in Georgian London: the boxing historian Pierce Egan and the extraordinary Charles Macklin, an eighteenth-century actor, playwright, and manslayer. The focus then moves to aspects of Hibernian influence and the presence of the Irish Diaspora in Great Britain from the medieval period up to the late nineteenth and early twentieth-century celebrations of St. Patrick's Day in Manchester. The book also considers the very different attitudes to the British Empire evident in the career of the 1916 rebel Sir Roger Casement and the Victorian philologist and colonial servant Whitley Stokes. Further essays look at writings by Scottish Marxists on the state of Ireland in the 1920s and the pronouncements on the Troubles by John Lennon and Paul McCartney. The book also examines change in the culture of the island of Ireland from the development of the Irish historical novel in the nineteenth century to ecology in contemporary Irish women's poetry to the present state of the Roman Catholic Church in Ireland. Contemporary Irish authors examined include Roddy Doyle, Joseph O'Connor, and Martin McDonagh.

The Disappointed Bridge Richard Pine, 2014-06-02. This original study is the first major critical appraisal of Ireland's post-colonial experience in relation to that of other emergent nations. The parallels between Ireland, India, Latin America, Africa, and Europe establish bridges in literary and musical contexts which offer a unique insight into independence and freedom and the ways in which they are articulated by emergent nations. They explore the master-servant relationship, the functions of narrative, and the concepts of nationalism, map-making, exile, schizophrenia, hybridity, magical realism, and disillusion. The author offers many incisive answers to the question: What happens to an emerging nation after it has emerged?

Selected Poems William Yeats, 2000-05-25. This selection of the works of W. B. Yeats includes the final book from the unfairly neglected narrative poem The Wanderings of Oisín and a number of lyrics from Yeats's work as poetic dramatist. It breaks new ground by allowing the reader to engage with a dozen poems in alternative versions. In many other cases, it provides significant variants so that Yeats's struggle to revise his poetry can be experienced with unusual immediacy.

An Anthology of Modern Irish Poetry Wes Davis, 2010. Never before has there been a single volume anthology of modern Irish poetry so significant and groundbreaking as An Anthology of Modern Irish Poetry. Collected here is a comprehensive representation of Irish poetic achievement in the twentieth and twenty-first centuries from poets such as

Austin Clarke and Samuel Beckett who were writing while Yeats and Joyce were still living to those who came of age in the turbulent e tm 60s as sectarian violence escalated including Seamus Heaney and Michael Longley to a new generation of Irish writers represented by such diverse interesting voices as David Wheatley born 1970 and Sin ad Morrissey born 1972 Scholar and editor Wes Davis has chosen work by more than fifty leading modern and contemporary Irish poets Each poet is represented by a generous number of poems there are nearly 800 poems in the anthology The editor e tm s selection includes work by world renowned poets including a couple of Nobel Prize winners as well as work by poets whose careers may be less well known to the general public by poets writing in English and by several working in the Irish language Gaelic selections appear in translation Accompanying the selections are a general introduction that provides a historical overview informative short essays on each poet and helpful notes eall prepared by the editor

Nationalism, Revisionism, and Modern Irish Literature Shakir M. Mustafa,1999

Renegotiating and Resisting Nationalism in Twentieth-century Irish Drama Scott Boltwood,2009 The essays in this collection seek to refine our understanding of the often polyvalent and conflicted engagement that Irish dramatists have entered into with nationalism a cultural and political movement that they have often attempted to simultaneously resist and renegotiate These nine essays construct a genealogy of dissent of loyal opposition revealing the apprehension and dissatisfaction with which the twentieth century s most influential playwrights have sometimes viewed the Irish state from its emergence in the early 1900s to its maturity at the century s end The articles on W B Yeats Augusta Gregory J M Synge and Sean O Casey reveal the early Abbey Theatre s struggle to critique the failures of and influence the development of the early state and its proscriptive brand of nationalist Irishness The essays exploring the later plays of Samuel Beckett Brian Friel Frank McGuinness Anne Devlin Christina Reid Marie Jones and Marina Carr expose both the conceptual and political failures of mainstream Irishness in the second half of the twentieth century to satisfy the material or political aspirations of people on either side of the Irish border While many of this collection s essays share a common postcolonial interpretive strategy individual articles also employ the strategies of ecocriticism social anthropology structuralism feminism and nationalist theory The fifteenth volume in the Ulster Editions and Monographs series
