friendliness We carefully cleaned the fireplace each Christmas Eve so Santa would not be covered in ash On Christmas Day we lit the fire using as kindling the few Christmas wrappings my mother deemed unsalvageable for another year The fireplace crackled snapped and exuded good cheer all December 25th and New Years as it did on Thanksgiving and on snowy January February and March days and evenings The fire removed the chill of fog in fall and spring and in the hurricane became briefly a working fireplace for heat for light for cooking most of all for the vision of coziness amidst the tempests roar Even in summer when the days turned damp and shivery the fire would be lit and we'd gather in its glow for fun and games I still have the old wire popcorn popper we jigged above the flames waiting with bated breath for that first distinctive POP and then in exultation as the kernels exploded in a delicious cacophony of pows I have lost years ago the wire marshmallow and hot dog toasters that the bold thrust into the flames those of us who liked blackened marshmallows and hot dogs that split taking the risk of losing them to the fire god and the more genteel held with tense concentration hovering over the embers for perfectly browned outside sumptuously melted inside marshmallows I remember my thirteenth birthday an icy wind whistling February night when ten teen girls toasted and roasted and tried to scare each other silly with ghost stories as the fire died slowly down and the room grew dark until mother returned with hot chocolate and in her matter of fact manner stirred up the fire with a poker adding a new log for good measure breaking the spell of titillating terror We turned to giggling over riddles jokes and songs featuring a lot of mindless alliteration I remember the dinner parties as an adult when talk would turn from children to gossip to politics to God somehow the fire drew us into an intimacy and warmth that went beyond the heat upon our faces I remember so many faces some grown some gone but all faces that turned more friendly around the fire that gentled into peace sharing the best of themselves in the steadfast glow If you have such a fireplace invite your friends over stockpile wood for the storm or light a log alone and listen to the fire's song If like me your fireplace is in a room long gone from you remember those of your past and those who shared them and be thankful Remember also those who have sat with you beside all the fires of your life those who need no fireplace of bricks and mortar to laugh with you and eat with you and share your fears and delights The fireplace may no longer
