Chairman Mao Talks To The People Talk And Letters 1956 1971:

Chairman Mao Talks to the People Zedong Mao,1975 Chairman Mao Talks to the People Tse-tung Mao,1975-06 Chairman Mao (Tse-tung) Talks to the People Mao Tse-tung,1974 We Are Not What We Seem Roderick D. Bush,2000-03 An Indispensable Book of The Black World Today website A fresh new look at the Black Power movement and its leaders Much has been written about the Black Power movement in the United States Most of this work however tends to focus on the personalities of the movement In We Are Not What We Seem Roderick D Bush takes a fresh look at Black Power and other African American social movements with a specific emphasis on the role of the urban poor in the struggle for Black rights Bush traces the trajectory of African American social movements from the time Booker T Washington to the present providing an integrated discussion of class He addresses questions crucial to any understanding of Black politics Is the Black Power movement simply another version of the traditional American ethnic politics or does it have wider social import What role has the federal government played in implicitly grooming social conservatives like Louis Farrakhan to assume leadership positions as opposed to leftist grassroots class oriented leaders Bush avoids the traditional liberal and social democratic approaches in favor of a more universalistic perspective that offers new insights into the history of Black movements in the U S Chinese Macrosecuritization Juha A. Vuori,2023-11-10 This book provides a holistic picture of Chinese global security discourses with a focus on macrosecritizations The work examines how the People's Republic of China PRC has aligned itself within global security discourses This is approached through the theory of securitization specifically by using the notion of macrosecritization as the lens for its analysis The book offers the first full account of Chinese macrosecritization discourses and alignments and it aims to discern what security speech with referent objects such as humanity civilization or nature has done in the domestic and international politics of China Specifically the work focuses on the discourses of the Cold War anti nuclear weapons climate change and the Global War on Terror which have all been postulated in the literature as macrosecritizations In addition it examines discourses with global referent objects that have been put forth by the PRC so that we can see whether its proposals for global security governance take the form of or are legitimated through macrosecritization The overall argument in the book is that the way contemporary China uses macrosecritization discourses provides for ontological security as its position in relation to other major powers is undergoing transformation by allowing it to maintain a consistent narrative of its international self that abides by its own set of moral values and sense of worth This book will be of interest to students of critical security studies Chinese politics and International Relations The Open Access version of this book available at www.taylorfrancis.com has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution NonCommercial ShareAlike CC BY NC SA 4.0 International Socialism with Chinese Characteristics Roland Boer,2021-04-27 This book covers the whole system of Socialism with Chinese Characteristics dealing with Deng Xiaoping's theory the socialist market economy a moderately well off Xiaokang society

China's practice and theory of socialist democracy human rights and Xi Jinping's Marxism In short the resolute focus is the Reform and Opening Up Socialism with Chinese Characteristics is one of the most important global realities today However the concept and its practice remain largely misunderstood outside China This book sets to redress such a lack of knowledge by making available to non Chinese speakers the sophisticated debates and conclusions in China concerning socialism with Chinese Characteristics It presents this material in a way that is both accessible and thorough Revolutionizing the Family

Neil J. Diamant, 2023-04-28 In 1950 China's new Communist government enacted a Marriage Law to allow free choice in marriage and easier access to divorce Prohibiting arranged marriages concubinage and bigamy it was one of the most dramatic efforts ever by a state to change marital and family relationships In this comprehensive study of the effects of that law Neil J Diamant draws on newly opened urban and rural archival sources to offer a detailed analysis of how the law was interpreted and implemented throughout the country In sharp contrast to previous studies of the Marriage Law which have argued that it had little effect in rural areas Diamant argues that the law reshaped marriage and family relationships in significant but often unintended ways throughout the Maoist period His evidence reveals a confused and often conflicted state apparatus as well as cases of Chinese men and women taking advantage of the law to justify multiple sexual encounters to marry for beauty to demand expensive gifts for engagement and to divorce on multiple occasions Moreover he finds those who were best placed to use the law's more liberal provisions were not well educated urbanites but rather illiterate peasant women who had never heard of sexual equality and it was poor men not women who were those most betrayed by the peasant based revolution This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 2000 In 1950 China's new Communist government enacted a Marriage Law to allow free choice in marriage and easier access to divorce Prohibiting arranged marriages concubinage and bigamy it was one of the most dramatic efforts ever by a state to change mari The Emergence of Global Maoism

Matthew Galway, 2022-03-15 The Emergence of Global Maoism examines the spread of Mao Zedong's writings ideology and institutions when they traveled outside of China Matthew Galway links Chinese Communist Party efforts to globalize Maoism to the dialectical engagement of exported Maoism by Cambodian Maoist intellectuals How do ideas manifest outside of their place of origin Galway analyzes how universal ideological systems became localized both in Mao's indigenization of Marxism Leninism and in the Communist Party of Kampuchea's indigenization of Maoism into its own revolutionary ideology By examining the intellectual journeys of CPK leaders who during their studies in Paris in the 1950s became progressive activist intellectuals and full fledged Communists he shows that they responded to political and socioeconomic crises by speaking back to Maoism adapting it through practice without abandoning its universality Among Mao's greatest achievements the Sinification of Marxism enabled the CCP to canonize Mao's thought and export it to a progressive audience of international intellectuals. These intellectuals would come to embrace the ideology as they set a course for social change. The Emergence of Global Maoism illuminates the process through which China moved its goal from class revolution to a larger anticolonial project that sought to cast out European and American imperialism from Asia. Disenfranchised Joel Andreas, 2019-08-01

In Disenfranchised Joel Andreas recounts the tumultuous events that have shaped and reshaped industrial relations in China over the past seven decades. Through interviews with workers and managers, Andreas provides a shop floor perspective of the transformation of hired hands into permanent work unit members, the all-encompassing control of factory party committees, the battles of the Cultural Revolution, and the disenfranchisement of workers through industrial restructuring. Andreas introduces a general theoretical framework to analyze workplace authority relations and closes with an overview of parallel developments around the globe, chronicling the rise and fall of an era of industrial citizenship. Chairman Mao Talks to the People Zedong Mao, 1975 A Critique of Soviet Economics Zedong Mao, 1977 Chairman Mao Meets the Apostle Paul Khiok-Khng Yeo, 2002

How do utopian dreams measure up to a Christian hope for a better world? How do Western Christians best understand and support the struggling Chinese church? In short, what can the apostle Paul have to do with Chairman Mao? K. K. Yeo brings Pauline eschatology and Maoist utopianism into conversation in Chairman Mao Meets the Apostle Paul. Yeo begins this discussion with the necessary background material needed to understand the landscape of both Mao's and Paul's philosophies of ideal society and history. He then compares Maoism with ancient Chinese theology, Marxism, and Pauline theology. Yeo shows how Maoism changed and incorporated Chinese and Marxist views and compares the result to the message of Paul and the Christian West. Finally, the book offers hope for the entire church in the post-Paul and post-Mao eras. New Testament and theological scholars and students, those interested in world affairs, and those who wish to better appreciate the church in China will learn from and be challenged by this important book. A History of the Chinese Communist Party Stephen Uhalley, 1988 Social Movements Among the Urban Poor Roderick Douglas Bush, 1995 China's Unresolved Issues Suzanne Ogden, 1995

The book offers a conceptual and thematic perspective on China's accomplishments and failures since the communist takeover in 1949, focusing on seven major unresolved issues. China's Uninterrupted Revolution Victor Nee, James Peck, 1975

Examines the Chinese Revolution as an ongoing historical process growing out of China's response to mid-nineteenth century Western expansionism and culminating in Mao Tse-tung's sustained insistence on continued revolution. Bibliography. Trotskyism and Maoism A. Belden Fields, 1988

The theory and practice of communism today does not adhere rigidly to the dogma of the Communist Party. This book provides a systematic comparison of Trotskyist and Maoist politics in theory and practice. Pulling together material from widely scattered sources into a comprehensive framework, Trotskyism and Maoism follows the development of the Trotskyist and Maoist movements in France and in the United States from the 1930s to the present.
