Change Mummified Cinema Historicity Theory:

Change Mummified Philip Rosen,2001 Exploring the modern category of history in relation to film theory film textuality and film history Change Mummified makes a persuasive argument for the centrality of historicity to film as well as the special importance of film in historical culture What do we make of the concern for recovering the past that is consistently manifested in so many influential modes of cinema from Hollywood to documentary and postcolonial film How is film related to the many modern practices that define themselves as configuring pastness in the present such as architectural preservation theme parks and above all professional historical research What is the relation of history in film to other media such as television and digital imaging How does emphasizing the connection between film and modern historicity affect the theorization and historicization of film and modern media culture Pursuing the full implications of film as cultural production Philip Rosen reconceptualizes modern historicity as a combination of characteristic epistemological structures on the one hand and the social imperative to regulate or manage time on the other Emphasizing a fundamental constellation of pursuit of the real indexical signification and the need to control time he interrogates a spectrum of film theory and film texts His argument refocuses the category of temporality for film and cultural theory while rethinking the importance of historicity An original and sustained meditation on the historiographic status of cinematic signs Change Mummified is both an intervention in film and media studies and an argument for the continuing necessity of modern historical thinking in its contradictions

Change Mummified: Once upon a Time in the West ,2001 The Anthem Handbook of Screen Theory Hunter
Vaughan, Tom Conley, 2018-07-30 The Anthem Handbook of Screen Theory offers a unique and progressive survey of screen theory and how it can be applied to a range of moving image texts and sociocultural contexts Focusing on the handbook angle the book includes only original essays from established authors in the field and new scholars on the cutting edge of helping screen theory evolve for the twenty first century vistas of new media social shifts and geopolitical change This method guarantees a strong foundation and clarity for the canon of film theory while also situating it as part of a larger genealogy of art theories and critical thought and reveals the relevance and utility of film theories and concepts to a wide array of expressive practices and specified arguments The Anthem Handbook of Screen Theory is at once inclusive applicable and a chance for writers to innovate and really play with where they think the field is can and should be heading

Spectacle in Classical Cinemas Tom Brown,2015-08-11 Spectacle is not often considered to be a significant part of the style of classical cinema Indeed some of the most influential accounts of cinematic classicism define it virtually by the supposed absence of spectacle Spectacle in Classical Cinemas Musicality and Historicity in the 1930s brings a fresh perspective on the role of the spectacular in classical sound cinema by focusing on one decade of cinema the 1930s in two modes of filmmaking musical and historical films and in two national cinemas the US and France This not only brings to light the special rhetorical and affective possibilities offered by spectacular images but refines our understanding of what classical cinema is and was Special Effects on the Screen Martin Lefebvre, Marc Furstenau, 2025-10-01 Since the very first days of cinema audiences have marveled at the special effects imagery presented on movie screens While long relegated to the margins of film studies special effects have recently become the object of a burgeoning field of scholarship With the emergence of a digital cinema and the development of computerized visual effects film theorists and historians have been reconsidering the traditional accounts of cinematic representation recognising the important role of special effects Understood as a constituent part of the cinema special effects are a major technical but also aesthetic component of filmmaking and an important part of the experience for the audience In this volume new directions are charted for the exploration of this indispensable aspect of the cinematic experience Each of the essays in this collection offers new insight into the theoretical and historical study of special effects. The contributors address the many aspects of special effects from a variety of perspectives considering them as a conceptual problem recounting the history of specific special effects techniques and analysing notable effects films Opening Bazin Dudley Andrew, Herve Joubert-Laurencin, 2011-04 Andr Bazin remains one of the most read most studied and most engaging figures ever to have written about film Fifty years after his death he is still widely recognized as cinema s most significant philosopher critic Always an important presence within cinema theory Bazin has seen a massive resurgence of interest among critics scholars and students now that an electronic archive of his entire critical output has been catalogued Opening Bazin assesses the great critic's influence and legacy with essays from several generations of the very best film scholars Gunning Frodon Margulies Conley MacCabe Narboni and Vernet to name just a few Ultimately these essays reaffirm Bazin's relevance in this new century tracing his lineage debating his aesthetics locating him in the rich cultural moment of postwar France and tracking the effect of his thought around the world

World Cinemas, Transnational Perspectives Nataša Durovicová, Kathleen E. Newman, 2009-09-10 SCMS Award Winner Best Edited Collection The standard analytical category of national cinema has increasingly been called into question by the category of the transnational This anthology examines the premises and consequences of the coexistence of these two categories and the parameters of historiographical approaches that cross the borders of nation states The three sections of World Cinemas Transnational Perspectives cover the geopolitical imaginary transnational cinematic institutions and the uneven flow of words and images

Queer Times, Black Futures Kara Keeling, 2019-04-16 Finalist 2019 Lambda Literary Award in LGBTQ Studies A profound intellectual engagement with Afrofuturism and the philosophical questions of space and time Queer Times Black Futures considers the promises and pitfalls of imagination technology futurity and liberation as they have persisted in and through racial capitalism Kara Keeling explores how the speculative fictions of cinema music and literature that center black existence provide scenarios wherein we might imagine alternative worlds queer and otherwise In doing so Keeling offers a sustained meditation on contemporary investments in futurity speculation and technology paying particular attention to their significance to queer and black freedom Keeling reads selected works such as Sun Ra s 1972 film

Space is the Place and the 2005 film The Aggressives to juxtapose the Afrofuturist tradition of speculative imagination with the similar speculations of corporate and financial institutions In connecting a queer cinematic reordering of time with the new possibilities technology offers Keeling thinks with and through a vibrant conception of the imagination as a gateway to queer times and black futures and the previously unimagined spaces that they can conjure Film Theory Thomas Elsaesser, Malte Hagener, 2015-03-12 What is the relationship between cinema and spectator This is the key question for film theory and one that Thomas Elsaesser and Malte Hagener put at the center of their insightful and engaging book now revised from its popular first edition Every kind of cinema and every film theory first imagines an ideal spectator and then maps certain dynamic interactions between the screen and the spectator's mind body and senses Using seven distinctive configurations of spectator and screen that move progressively from exterior to interior relationships the authors retrace the most important stages of film theory from its beginnings to the present from neo realist and modernist theories to psychoanalytic apparatus phenomenological and cognitivist theories and including recent cross overs with philosophy and neurology This new and updated edition of Film Theory An Introduction through the Senses has been extensively revised and rewritten throughout incorporating discussion of contemporary films like Her and Gravity and including a greatly expanded final chapter which brings film theory fully into the digital age Cinephilia in the Age of Digital Reproduction Scott Balcerzak, Jason Sperb, 2009 This title explores the increasing relevance of digital media in the consumption and analysis of film Visualizing Ethnicity, Solidifying History John Robert Alexander, 2005 Film, History and Cultural Citizenship Tina Mai Chen, David S. Churchill, 2007 This new book investigates the relationship of film to history power memory and cultural citizenship The book is concerned with two central issues firstly the participation of film and filmmakers in articulating and challenging projects of modernity and secondly the role of film in shaping particular understandings of self and other to evoke collective notions of belonging These issues call for interdisciplinary and multi layered analyses that are ideally met through dialogue across place time identities and genres The contributors to this volume enable this dialogue by considering the ways in which cultural expression and identity expressed through film serve to create notions of belonging group identity and entitlement within modern societies Tsai Ming-liang and a Cinema of Slowness Song Hwee Lim, 2014-01-31 This is the first dedicated study of all of Tsai Ming Liangs feature length films to date One of contemporary cinemas most distinctive filmmakers Tsais films are typically slow paced and minimalist in plot dialogue and characterization full of static long takes with very little happening within the shots Rather than provide a chronological survey of Tsais films the book is theorized through the concept of slowness It examines the two filmic elements sights and sound through detailed analysis of Tsais use of stillness and silence it also situates Tsais filmmaking in the context of a trend in contemporary cinema toward slowness by directors as diverse as Abbas Kiarostami Bela Tarr and Aleksandr Sokurov The author argues that slowness in cinema can be seen as a response to the increasing pace of mainstream films as well as to the unstoppable speed of a postmodern world
