Valuing Music in Education Charles Fowler, 2017

Noted music education and arts activist Charles Fowler has inspired music educators for more than 60 years. In this book, editor Craig Resta brings together the most important of Fowler's writings from the journal Musical America for new generations of readers. Here, Fowler speaks to many timeless issues including creativity and culture in the classroom, school funding reform, and policy assessment and pedagogy and equality and pluralism in music education. The articles are both research-based and practical and helpful for many of the most important concerns in school-based advocacy and scholarly inquiry today. Resta offers critical commentary with compelling background to these enduring pieces, placing them in a context that clarifies the benefit of their message to music and arts education. Fowler's words speak to all who have a stake in music education: students, teachers, parents, administrators, performers, community members, business leaders, arts advocates, scholars, professors, and researchers alike. Valuing Music in Education is ideal for everyone who understands the critical role of music in schools and society.

Handbook of Research on Teaching Drew Gitomer, Courtney Bell, 2016-05-19. The Fifth Edition of the Handbook of Research on Teaching is an essential resource for students and scholars dedicated to the study of teaching and learning. This volume offers a vast array of topics ranging from the history of teaching to technological and literacy issues. In each authoritative chapter, the authors summarize the state of the field while providing conceptual overviews of critical topics related to research on teaching. Each of the volume's 23 chapters is a canonical piece that will serve as a reference tool for the field. The Handbook provides readers with an unparalleled view of the current state of research on teaching across its multiple facets and related fields.

Addressing Issues of Mental Health in Schools through the Arts Nick Clough, Jane Tarr, 2021-09-30. This book outlines how teachers, music arts therapists, and teacher trainers have engaged in participatory action research to facilitate regular group music listening and improvisational music making with children and young people in their classrooms, highlighting its impact in addressing issues of mental health and providing social and emotional access to learning. The book includes examples of classroom practice evidencing how safe, inclusive, and interactive music making can stimulate experiences that alter children and young people's moods, enhance their social skills, and enable their connectivity with each other and with learning. It describes participatory action research approaches that support inter-professional learning between teachers and music arts therapists. Five narrative accounts of classroom episodes provide a basis for continuing reflection and critical theorising about young people's relational health and sensory engagement. The book explores outcomes from non-verbal dialogic interaction and attachment-focused practices. It advocates new forms of rights-respecting professionalism, providing new frameworks with which to enhance the wellbeing of vulnerable children and young people in classroom settings. The book will be important reading for researchers and students.

in the fields of inclusive education music arts therapy and teacher training The contents are significant for practitioners looking to support children and young people s recovery and reconnections in the classroom
