How to Enhance Learning Efficiency When Online Learning is Popular and Indispensable: Theory, Research and Practice
Rong Lian, Chang Liu, Juzhe Xi, 2024-07-17 Online learning has become more and more common globally whether for comfort adapting to work hours or just having the freedom to study from anywhere. And now under the coronavirus pandemic as people are having to stay at home it has become more important than ever. Although the popularity of wireless network and portable smart device makes it possible for people to acquire and learn knowledge anytime and anywhere it does not necessarily mean an increased learning performance. Relevant research in cognitive science has revealed possible limitations in online learning. For example the knowledge acquired through online learning tends to be fragmented and lacks guidance for integrated thinking among different subjects which makes it difficult for learners to form a systematic knowledge structure. Learners may experience cognitive overload, metacognitive illusion and low learning efficiency in self regulated learning. It follows that in the post COVID 19 era online learning puts forward new requirements and challenges to the contemporary students not only to their learning strategies but positive character traits in learning. Most of the current learning theories were developed in the early 20th century and may not fit in well with the current situation then possibly leading to inefficient learning and increased learning burden. Therefore it is necessary and important to reexplore the influencing factors and mechanisms that affect the learning efficiency of students at all levels nowadays based on which we could construct a theoretical model of efficient learning model.

Handbook for Social Work Writing Susan E. Mason, Wendy Zeitlin, 2024-03-28 This concise accessible and engaging handbook offers a companion for social work students to acquire professional and competency based writing skills. Written by experienced educators the book builds writing proficiency by introducing a social work based guide to academic writing and professional communication. Each chapter addresses a specific area of social work writing and development progressing from coursework and beginning fieldwork to practice based assessments and reports. The authors integrate a series of scaffolded activities throughout for readers to cultivate awareness and further technique and with sections explaining contemporary communication methods and common writing challenges readers will be prepared to use technology both to strengthen their writing and to ease the overall process. Excellent for use in courses across the social work curriculum and as a personal guide the Handbook for Social Work Writing provides students with on the spot guidance for any type of academic or professional writing assignment.
