

1. Academic Culture: As a student, I spend a large portion of my time in an academic setting. This culture values knowledge, critical thinking, and intellectual development. It is an important component of my life because it influences my everyday activities, future career, and personal growth.
2. The culture I identify with truly is American culture. Born in the USA, Kent Island Maryland residents for 16 years before moving away to a different state. But if anybody didn't know, Maryland is the capital of seafood and the best to carry them in my opinion. Different cultures of life settles over in Maryland as well.

The final culture with which I identify is Christianity. As a Christian, I observe religious holidays, have been baptized, and believe in a God I understand. The cross is the main symbol of Christianity. The Christian cross was first used in ancient paganism. The cross is currently used as a Christian emblem over the world. The cross is thought to be effective in warding off bad spirits and protecting believers from harm.
