Collegiate Communication Dawn Aubry, Patricia Westergaard, 2002-08-01 Online Teaching and Learning in Higher Education Pedro Isaias, Demetrios G. Sampson, Dirk Ifenthaler, 2020-09-29 This book is to explore a variety of facets of online learning environments to understand how learning occurs and succeeds in digital contexts and what teaching strategies and technologies are most suited to this format Business health government and education are some of the core sectors of society which have been experiencing deep transformations due to a generalized digitalization While these changes are not novel the swift progress of technology and the rising complexity of digital environments place a focus on the need for further research and novel strategies In the context of education the promise of increased flexibility and broader access to educational resources is impelling much of higher education's course offerings to online environments The 21st century learner requires an education that can be pursued anytime and anywhere and that is more aligned with the demands of a digital society Online education not only assists students to successfully integrate a workforce that is increasingly digital but it helps them to become more comfortable with the use of technology in general and hence more prepared to be prolific digital citizens The variety of settings portrayed in this volume attest to the unlimited opportunities afforded by online learning and serve as valuable evidence of its benefit for students' educational experience Moreover these research efforts assist a more comprehensive reflection about the delivery of higher education in the context of online settings of Communication,1991 Ladies' Greek Yopie Prins,2017-05-09 In Ladies Greek Yopie Prins illuminates a culture of female classical literacy that emerged in the second half of the nineteenth century during the formation of women's colleges on both sides of the Atlantic Why did Victorian women of letters desire to learn ancient Greek a dead language written in a strange alphabet and no longer spoken In the words of Elizabeth Barrett Browning they wrote some Greek upon the margin lady's Greek without the accents Yet in the margins of classical scholarship they discovered other ways of knowing and not knowing Greek Mediating between professional philology and the popularization of classics these passionate amateurs became an important medium for classical transmission Combining archival research on the entry of women into Greek studies in Victorian England and America with a literary interest in their translations of Greek tragedy Prins demonstrates how women turned to this genre to perform a passion for ancient Greek full of eros and pathos She focuses on five tragedies Agamemnon Prometheus Bound Electra Hippolytus and The Bacchae to analyze a wide range of translational practices by women and to explore the ongoing legacy of Ladies Greek Key figures in this story include Barrett Browning and Virginia Woolf Janet Case and Jane Harrison Edith Hamilton and Eva Palmer and A Mary F Robinson and H D The book also features numerous illustrations including photographs of early performances of Greek tragedy at women's colleges The first comparative study of Anglo American Hellenism Ladies Greek opens up new perspectives in transatlantic Victorian studies and the study of classical reception translation and gender Proceedings of the School Committee of the City of Boston Boston (Mass.). School Committee,1910 Library Services for Open and Distance Learning Marie Kascus,ALEXANDE L. SLADE,2000-06-15 As the electronic era blurs the boundaries between conventional and distance education and between remote and in person library users the literature on library issues and distance learning has proliferated immensely This work helps you keep abreast of the phenomenal changes taking place in the field of education and the issues they raise for libraries Identifying and describing more than 750 works published since its precursor was completed in 1995 the book provides a comprehensive record of the current literature about distance and open learning in post secondary education programs The authors cover all types of materials from around the world ranging from brief news items to major research reports and dissertations In this edition special emphasis is given to web based distance education Access is provided through four indexes author geographical institution and subject and indexes are cumulative from the previous two bibliographies Communication Counts David Worley,Debra Worley,Laura Soldner,2007 Communicating for College and Beyond teaches that what is learned in the basic communication course can be linked and applied to college life and career experiences By integrating basic communication course content with lived experiences the authors aim to illustrate how principles and practices can assist them here and now as well as prepare the individual for future successes in the work world Readers from all walks of life will find this text relevant and see the immediate affective connection to their lives which in turn will help to improve their motivation and enhance learning Bulletin Institute of International Education (New York, N.Y.),1920 Expository Science: Forms and Functions of Popularisation T. Shinn,Richard P. Whitley,1985-06-30 The prevailing view of scientific popularization both within academic circles and beyond affirms that its objectives and procedures are unrelated to tasks of cognitive development and that its pertinence is by and large restricted to the lay public Consistent with this view popularization is frequently portrayed as a logical and hence inescapable consequence of a culture dominated by science based products and procedures and by a scientific ideology On another level it is depicted as a quasi political device for channeling the energies of the general public along predetermined paths examples of this are the nineteenth century Industrial Revolution and the U S Soviet space race Alternatively scientific popularization is described as a carefully contrived plan which enables scientists or their spokesmen to allege that scientific learning is equitably shared by scientists and non scientists alike This manoeuvre is intended to weaken the claims of anti scientific protesters that scientists monopolize knowledge as a means of sustaining their social privileges Popularization is also sometimes presented as a psychological crutch This in an era of increasing scientific specialisation permits the researchers involved to believe that by transcending the boundaries of their narrow fields their endeavours assume a degree of general cognitive importance and even extra scientific relevance Regardless of the particular thrust of these different analyses it is important to point out that all are predicated on the tacit presupposition that scientific popularization belongs essentially to the realm of non science or only concerns the periphery of scientific activity Transformative Civic Education in Democratic Societies Tetyana Hoggan-Kloubert,Paul E Mabrey III,Chad Hoggan,2023-08-01 Democracy is neither inevitable nor guaranteed to last To survive democracy needs people adequately prepared to enact it Such preparation for effective citizenship in a complex and plural world requires an adult civic education one that goes beyond simple knowledge acquisition It requires a transformative education to help learners become agents and co shapers of their worlds This book offers examples of the roles that civic education has played and can play in different communities In this collection scholars from around the world report and reflect on civic adult education examining approaches paradigms and concepts that help us to act in culturally ethnically linguistically and religiously diverse societies City Record Boston (Mass.),1916 A Report on Education in China (for American Educational Authorities) Paul Monroe,1922 Ohio University Bulletin Ohio University,1903 Academic Histories of Faculty Members of Associated Collegiate Schools of Business with Bibliographies of Their Publications ,1926 Collegiate News and Views ,1960 Official Report of the Proceedings of the Board of Education of the City of Chicago Chicago (Ill.).
