Class Kinship Power In An Ecuadorian T:

Animism and the Question of Life Istvan Praet, 2013-08-15 The central purpose of this book is to help change the terms of the debate on animism a classic theme in anthropology It combines some of the finest ethnographic material currently available including firsthand research on the Chachi of Ecuador with an unusually broad geographic scope the Americas Asia and Africa Edward B Tylor originally defined animism as the first phase in the development of religion The heyday of cultural evolutionism may be over but his basic conception is commonly assumed to remain valid in at least one respect there is still a broad consensus that everything is alive within animism or at least that more things are alive than a modern scientific observer would allow for e g clouds rivers mountains It is considered self evident that animism is based on a kind of exaggeration its adherents are presumed to impute life to this that and the other in a remarkably generous manner Against the prevailing consensus this book argues that if animism has one outstanding feature it is its peculiar restrictiveness Animistic notions of life are astonishingly uniform across the globe insofar as they are restricted rather than exaggerated In the modern Western cosmology life overlaps with the animate Within animism however life is always conditional and therefore tends to be limited to one s kin one s pets and perhaps the plants in one s garden Thus it emerges that our modern biological concept of life is stranger than generally thought Latin American Urbanization Charles Butterworth, 1981-01-31 Originally published in 1981 as part of the Urbanization in Developing Countries series Latin American Urbanization presents an in depth look at a process of social change in an important region of the Third World In this study Professors Butterworth and Chance concentrate on the rural urban migration of the lower classes and the adaptation of migrants to city life They examine the rural peasant and proletarian communities from which the migrants have come and to which they often remain loyal even after many years of urban residence Drawing together in a coherent manner studies from several disciplines such as demographic sociocultural economic and political dimensions of urbanization this book will interest a variety of scholars in the social sciences and the humanities Kings for Three Days Jean Muteba Rahier, 2013-05-01 With its rich mix of cultures European influences colonial tensions and migration from bordering nations Ecuador has long drawn the interest of ethnographers historians and political scientists In this book Jean Muteba Rahier delivers a highly detailed thought provoking examination of the racial sexual and social complexities of Afro Ecuadorian culture as revealed through the annual Festival of the Kings During the Festival the people of various villages and towns of Esmeraldas Ecuador s province most associated with blackness engage in celebratory and parodic portrayals often donning masks cross dressing and disguising themselves as blacks indigenous people and whites in an obvious critique of local provincial and national white white mestizo and light mulatto elites Rahier shows that this festival as performed in different locations reveals each time a specific location s perspective on the larger struggles over identity class and gender relations in the racial spacial order of Esmeraldas and of the Ecuadorian nation in general Books and Pamphlets, Including Serials and Contributions to Periodicals Library of Congress. Copyright Office,1968 Race and Rurality in the Global Economy Michaeline A. Crichlow,Patricia Northover,Juan Giusti-Cordero,2018-09-26 Issues of migration environment rurality and the visceral politics of place and space have occupied center stage in recent electoral political struggles in the United States and Europe suffused by an antiglobalization discourse that has come to resonate with Euro American peoples Race and Rurality in the Global Economy suggests that this present fractious global politics begs for closer attention to be paid to the deep rooted conditions and outcomes of globalization and development From multiple viewpoints the contributors to this volume propose ways of understanding the ongoing processes of globalization that configure peoples and places via a politics of rurality in a capitalist world economy and through an optics of raciality that intersects with class gender identity land and environment In tackling the dynamics of space and place their essays address matters such as the heightened risks and multiple states of insecurity in the global economy the new logics of expulsion and primitive accumulation dynamics shaping a new savage sorting patterns of resistance and transformation in the face of globalization s political and environmental changes the steady decline in the livelihoods of people of color globally and their deepened vulnerabilities and the complex reconstitution of systemic and lived racialization within these processes This book is an invitation to ask whether our dystopia in present politics can be disentangled from the deepening sense of white fragility in the context of the historical power of globalization s raced effects This book is freely available in an open access edition thanks to Knowledge Unlatched an initiative that provides libraries and institutions with a centralized platform to support OA collections and from leading publishing houses and OA initiatives Learn more at the Knowledge Unlatched website at <https://www.knowledgeunlatched.org> and access the book online at the SUNY Open Access Repository at <http://hdl.handle.net/20.500.12648/7136> Catalog of Copyright Entries.
